MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Virginia University of Lynchburg is one of America's Historical Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU's). This group of schools was founded in the 19th century to serve African Americans that were not allowed to attend predominately white institutions. For one hundred and twenty-four years our institution has nurtured and sent out some of the most effective schoolteachers, missionaries, ministers, and community leaders in our nation.

Through a century, Virginia University has survived post-reconstruction disenfranchisement of African Americans in the south, the emergence of Crow Laws, the great depression of the late 1920s, and our struggle for equality in the 1960s. In each instance, her graduates have emerged as courageous leaders who have led our people on through the storms.

Today, we are challenged once again to provide our young men and women with an education and programs that will prepare them to lead in a new century, and a new millennium. As we celebrate our rich heritage, our institution must position herself to prepare the next generation of leaders who will address some of our world's most pressing problems. Among these are an economic meltdown, unemployment, healthcare, energy, global warming, and inadequate education for our citizens, growing national debt and political self-indulgence. All institutions are judged by the quality of the graduates they produce. Our faculty then must become committed to developing pre-college initiatives that equip many of our high school graduates with the skills they need to matriculate successfully in a college environment. This will no doubt call for strong student support through social, financial, academic assistance to students by the way of peer and teacher-student mentoring programs and tutoring. In so doing, Virginia University of Lynchburg will be the institution that will be positioned to salvage the lost generation among us, and provide that enlightened leadership that will help the nation find solutions to the problems of our time.

Kathy Franklin, Ph.D.
President

Non-Discrimination Policy and Procedures

Virginia University of Lynchburg does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion (Title VII), ethnic origin (Title VI), handicap (Section 504), sexual orientation, or age in the administration of its educational and employment policies, and maintains such nondiscriminatory policy in all aspects of operation in the administration of its educational programs and policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic or other University-administered programs, except as such conditions may constitute bona fide occupational or assignment qualifications. Discriminatory acts of any kind are strictly forbidden.

In keeping with the historical values of Virginia University of Lynchburg, the University endeavors to treat all students and employees with dignity, justice, and fairness. The University strives to provide equal opportunity and an atmosphere of nondiscrimination. This policy is to be implemented throughout the University and is the responsibility of all departments and personnel, supervisory, and nonsupervisory.

Inquiries concerning the application of these policies may be directed to the Director of Financial Aid, the Dean of the University, the Section 504 Coordinator, or the Vice President for Academic Affairs, at 434-528-5276, in Lynchburg, Virginia 24501.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Virginia University of Lynchburg will make reasonable accommodations for the known physical or mental disabilities of an otherwise qualified individual (as those terms defined in the American with Disabilities Act). If you have a disability which requires accommodation, please contact Ms. Pat Price, Director of Disability Services 2058 Garfield Avenue, Lynchburg, Virginia 24501 or by telephone 434-528-5276 (Ext. 1114). Students and the Director will engage in an interactive process to determine reasonable accommodations.

Title IX

In compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972, Virginia University of Lynchburg works to ensure that “no person shall...on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.” The University’s Director of Disability Services is Dr. Patricia Price, pprice@vul.edu, or 434-528-5276 ext.1114. Inquiries about the University’s compliance with and policies that prohibit discrimination on these bases may be directed to:

HISTORY

The Virginia Seminary and College was organized in May 1886, during the 19th annual session of the Virginia Baptist State Convention at the First Baptist Church at Lexington, Virginia. The Reverend P.F. Morris, the pastor of the Court Street Baptist Church of Lynchburg, Virginia, offered the resolution that authorized the establishment of the institution. A preliminary meeting perfecting the plans to organize the school and locate it at Lynchburg, Virginia, was held in July 1886. At this meeting, Lawyer James H. Hayes of Richmond was appointed to obtain a charter for the school. The plans drawn up in the preliminary meeting were ratified in the 20th annual session of the Convention held at High Street Baptist Church at Danville, Virginia, in May 1887. The next annual session of the Virginia Baptist State Convention was held at Court Street Baptist Church in Lynchburg, Virginia, the Reverend P.F. Morris, Pastor, in 1888. At this session of the Convention, the location of the school in Lynchburg, the plans and specifications of the first brick building, the letting of the contract for the erection of the building and the charter were approved. The cornerstone of this building was laid in July 1888.

According to the charter, the school was first known by the name of the Lynchburg Baptist Seminary. A temporary weather-board building was erected in 1889. The Seminary was opened by Professor R. P. Armstead, January 18, 1890, with an enrollment of thirty-three students.

By Charter amendments, the school's name has been changed five times: first, from Lynchburg Baptist Seminary to Virginia Seminary, February 4, 1890; second, from Virginia Seminary to Virginia Theological Seminary and College, June 5, 1900; from Virginia Theological Seminary and College to Virginia Seminary and College, May 15, 1962; and from Virginia Theological Seminary and College to Virginia College-Virginia Seminary, 1967 and finally to Virginia University of Lynchburg, 1996.

Virginia University of Lynchburg has had sixteen presidents. The first president of Virginia University of Lynchburg was the Reverend P.F. Morris (1888-1890). Professor G. W. Hayes, the second president (1890- 1906), gave to the institution its philosophy of “SELF-HELP,” and during his administration, Hayes Hall was built. During the administration of Dr. R.C. Woods, a former student of Professor Hayes, the school enjoyed its greatest period of expansion: Fox Hall, Graham Hall, and Humbles Hall were erected; several lots and cottages were purchased, capable and efficient faculties were employed, and a capacity student body of six hundred was enrolled.

The College has grown from a small frame building to a plant that could not be replaced today for 30 million dollars. The plant, its management, and the responsibility of financing it reveals the potential mental, moral, and spiritual resources of the institution’s DO-FOR-THYSELF philosophy.

During the past 128 years, the University has had sixteen presidents, eleven of whom were graduates of the University, namely: Robert C. Wood, William H.R. Powell, Vernon N. Johns, Madison C. Allen, McCarthy C. Southerland, Benjamin W. Robertson, Leroy Fitts, Melvin R. Boone, Thomas E. Parker, Elisha G. Hall, and Ralph Reavis.

DOCTRINAL POSITION

Doctrinal Statement Revised April 21, 2009

Virginia University of Lynchburg (formerly Virginia Theological Seminary and College) was founded as a Christian institution of higher education. Therefore, in order to provide the means by which the administration, faculty, and students may be guided by the Word of God, the founding fathers of the Virginia Baptist State Convention stated that the initial aim was to “make this institution thoroughly and positively Christian.” As a community which follows the Christian Doctrine, we subscribe to the faith of our fathers and mothers who followed the teachings of the Old Testament and the New Testament.

We believe in one True God, the Creator of the Universe, and all that exists within. God is the Father of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and of our Lord Jesus Christ who was manifested in the flesh as God and man, lives and reigns in unity with God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. The three modes of being in the Trinitarian Godhead as understood by Christians are of the same substance and are distinct in person and function.

We believe that God the Father is the First Person of the Trinity and the beginning of all that God has made evident in the Universe. He is the maker of heaven and earth and is actively involved in His purpose to redeem all of creation to its original state of perfection.

We believe that Jesus Christ is the Second Person of the Trinity, eternally generated from God the Father. Jesus our Lord is God and man and his unitary personality unites the divine and human natures. Through a miracle, by the Holy Spirit, He was conceived and born to the Virgin Mary and lives forever as God and man with two distinct natures united in one person. We believe that the Holy Spirit is the Third Person of the Triune Godhead, emanating from the Father and the Son, and sharing equality with them. The Holy Spirit gives life to all and participates in the creation and the orderly activity of the universe. The Holy Spirit is the means by which men, women, boys and girls are born again to comfort the believers and assist us on our journey toward perfection.

We believe that God created all things, angels were created as messengers and ministering beings, but with the advocacy of Satan, and some angels rebelled against God and fell from their sinless state and became evil beings. We further affirm that God created the universe in six days and rested upon the seventh. Human beings were created by God in His image and likeness, and they are responsible under God for how they exercise dominion over the work of God's hands and conduct their own lives.

We believe that the Bible (the Old and New Testament) was written by individuals who were inspired by God and is, therefore, authoritative in all matters. We believe that under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit the believer can understand and discern its meanings. We believe that Adam and Eve, the first man and woman, willfully disobeyed God, and thereby bringing sin and death into the world; now all persons are sinners from birth and stand in need of redemption from the consequence of sin.

We believe that Jesus Christ gave Himself as the supreme sacrifice by the Will of God the Father, and through the crucifixion on a cross and His obedience to the will of His Father, He redeemed all through the shedding of His blood and death at Calvary. He was buried and on the third day, He arose from the dead. He ascended into heaven where He now sits at the Father's right hand and makes intercession for all believers.

We believe that each person can be saved through the work that Jesus accomplished on the Cross of Calvary and the subsequent resurrection on the third day. Salvation for the Believer by grace becomes reality when repentance of sin is confessed with faith alone in Jesus Christ as Savior. The Believer is then made righteous through faith alone and experiences the new birth through the power of the Holy Spirit. With this power, the Believer is able to turn from sin and lives out his or her life through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. The Holy Spirit dwells in all who have been born again, assisting in the preservation of the image of God within them, and conforming their lives into the likeness of the Lord Jesus Christ.

We believe that the local church is a congregation of baptized believers, organized to carry out the great commission to evangelize, teach, and administer the Ordinances of Baptism and the Lord's Supper. The Church has two scriptural officers, the Pastor, and the Deacon. The Church carries out its mission through the gifts given by the Holy Spirit to all believers and prepares them for eternal life.

We believe that the resurrected body of Jesus Christ will return to the earth to judge and purge sin, to establish His eternal Kingdom, and to consummate and fulfill His purposes in the works of creation and redemption with eternal rewards and punishments. In juxtaposition to heaven, hell is a place of eternal punishment where all who die outside of Christ shall be confined in conscious torment for eternity.

MISSION

Virginia University of Lynchburg seeks to recognize the possibilities in every human being and maximize the gifts of the individual within the context of a thoroughly Christian and nurturing environment, which offers students opportunities to develop into able leaders and scholars.

The Mission of the school is to provide a solid Liberal Arts and Christian Education program for all students. The University continues to embrace our African-American heritage along with appreciation for other cultures and ethnic groups in our global Community.

Virginia University of Lynchburg has, for the past 25 years, operated several teaching locations in the state of Virginia. This effort is in keeping with VUL's historic missionary spirit of reaching out to the wider community beyond the University.

This historical African American institution was founded in 1886 to meet the growing demands of our community for better-educated and trained ministers, missionaries, and public school teachers.

OBJECTIVES

In support of its Mission, Virginia University of Lynchburg seeks to equip its students with training and skills to:

1. Share the Word of God with the saved and unsaved.
2. Understand, apply, analyze, synthesize, and evaluate information gained in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences during their educational careers and throughout their lives.
3. Engage in a major field of study with a solid liberal arts foundation.
4. Actualize their spiritual, academic, and vocational potentialities.
5. Know and help fulfill the needs of others in a way that leads to the betterment of humanity.
6. Possess university-level competencies in writing, speaking, reading, analytical reasoning, computer literacy, library research, and the appreciation of the arts.
7. Cultivate and implement distinct Christian service ministries.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

General Admission to the University

Students who respond to the challenge of a creative, dedicated life and who are ready to assume significant responsibility for shaping their academic careers are prepared to begin study at Virginia University of Lynchburg.

The University seeks to enroll students who will benefit from academic and character training and who are willing to contribute to the development of a democratic society without regard to race, creed, color, or national origin. The student must be willing and able to assume responsibility for personal conduct and have a sense of concern for others.

Undergraduate Programs

Admission may be granted to individuals with a 2.0 grade point average, a high school diploma or the equivalent (GED) and may benefit from any of the programs of study offered by the University. A transfer student must have 2.0 grade point average in order to apply at Virginia University of Lynchburg. Admission to the University may be denied if the admissions committee feels that matriculation would not be in the best interest of the student and/or the University.

Students from various achievement levels, as indicated by their official school transcripts, are encouraged to apply for admission to VUL. The Admissions Committee will consider a combination of factors and characteristics in deciding whether an applicant will be granted admission.

Conditional Admissions

Students who have a GPA less than 2.0 or a GED score below 530 will be recommended to the Admissions Committee for final admissions approval under Conditional Admissions. Any applicant who qualifies as a conditionally admitted student (GPA is less than 2.0 or GED below 530) must meet the following criteria:

- The conditionally admitted student will be permitted to carry a maximum course load of 12 semester hours until 24 credit hours are attempted.
- The student will follow a prescribed course of study designed to strengthen basic skills.
- Specific courses must be taken where weaknesses have been demonstrated. (QC Math, QC English and QC Vocabulary Building).
- Conditionally admitted students will be granted unconditional admission status within, or upon completion of, 24 semester credit hours at Virginia University of Lynchburg with an overall 2.0 GPA.
- Any conditional student who fails to attain a 2.0 GPA upon completion of 24 credit hours attempted at Virginia University of Lynchburg will be dropped from the program.

Students at Virginia University of Lynchburg are encouraged to develop themselves to their fullest potential. In keeping with the philosophy of the University, the Admissions Committee gives due regards to the following: 1886

- Character and personality traits

- The physical and emotional health of the student
- Academic performance in high school or other colleges

All Applicants for Admission are required to:

- File the appropriate admission application.
- Submit the non-refundable application fee.
- Have official high school and/or college transcripts forwarded to the Admissions Office.
- Schedule a conference with the Registrar or Dean to outline a program of study.
- Foreign students must submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) to be classified as a foreign student. The Educational Testing Service, in Princeton, New Jersey, offers this test and it is administered in several locations in Virginia during the year. Admission to the University cannot be granted until satisfactory results of the test are forwarded to the Admissions Office.

Transfer credit (see Student Transfer policy)

Applicants who are transferring from another higher educational institution, or who has transfer credit to be considered for the program should refer to the Student Transfers policy.

Applicants who may wish to transfer this coursework from VUL to another educational institution should refer to the Student Transfers policy.

Non-degree seeking students

A student may wish to satisfy specific requirements for admission to a graduate or professional school, for teacher licensure, or for a specialized program of an outside agency. These credits may be included in the 120 hours as electives or may be taken in addition to those required for graduation.

Graduate Programs

The admissions requirements for graduate programs are included with the graduate program's information in this catalog.

ABILITY-TO-BENEFIT

Applicants to Virginia University who do not have a traditional high school diploma or an equivalent GED and are not currently enrolled in a high school curriculum may qualify for the Ability to-Benefit option and be eligible to matriculate into a program and apply for Financial Aid. Upon submitting an application for admission, applicants will be required to take an Ability-to-Benefit assessment test. Applicants achieving the minimum score as established by the U.S. Department of Education (for Accuplacer - Reading: 55; Sentence Skills: 60; Math: 34) will be admitted to Virginia University of Lynchburg and will be permitted to matriculate and apply for financial aid.

To be eligible under the Ability-to-Benefit (ATB) option, a student must be at least sixteen (16) years of age and pass a United States Department of Education approved ATB test. ATB affords an individual with the opportunity to demonstrate that he/she can benefit from the educational experience at Virginia University of Lynchburg.

Admission may be granted to individuals who have a high school diploma or the equivalent (GED), and may benefit from any of the programs of study offered by the University. While students in Virginia cannot earn their GED unless they are beyond the compulsory attendance age, students who seek college admission from other states with GED certificates must be beyond the age of compulsory high school attendance in the state in which their school is located. Admission to the University may be denied if the admissions committee feels that matriculation would not be in the best interest of the student and/or the University.

HOW TO APPLY

- I. Students at Virginia University of Lynchburg are encouraged to develop themselves to their fullest potential. In keeping with the philosophy of the University, the Admissions Committee gives due regards to the following:
 - Character and personality traits
 - The physical and emotional health of the student
 - Academic performance in high school or other colleges

- II. All applicants for admission are required to:
 - File the appropriate admission application
 - Submit the non-refundable application fee
 - Have official high school and/or college transcripts forwarded to the Admissions Office
 - Schedule a conference with the Director of Admissions to outline a program of study
 - Fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA Form)

Foreign students must submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) to be classified as a foreign student. The Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, offers this test and it is administered in several locations in Virginia during the year. Admission to the University cannot be considered until satisfactory results of the test are forwarded to the Admissions Office. Prospective students who may have questions on the admissions process or admission policies may contact the Admissions Director.

Felony Conviction

If an applicant has a felony conviction, it does require review before the student can be officially admitted. The applicant can be provisionally admitted subject to review of the conviction, which may include consideration of additional documentation provided by coaches, faculty, and staff.

Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) and Non Citizens

DACA and other undocumented students are not US citizens or US nationals. They are not eligible for federal student financial aid (i.e., Pell grant, guaranteed subsidized and unsubsidized loans, etc.). They may be eligible for student financial aid in some states, but not in Virginia. They are allowed to remain the US but must pay for their education out of their own funds. VUL students are required to apply for and accept the federal student financial aid for which they are eligible.

VUL will admit a DACA student if they meet the admissions criteria. If a DACA student is admitted, the institutional aid will be awarded based upon their FAFSA and reduced by the federal student financial aid that an eligible student would receive. If they have a social security number it may be for employment purposes only, but will allow them to complete the FAFSA.

Re-Admission

Any student, whose enrollment at the University has been interrupted for more than one semester, must apply for readmission by submitting an application and a $25.00 nonrefundable application fee. The student must submit a statement of intent, which includes:

- An explanation of the reason for leaving the University
- Reason(s) for desiring to return

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

The prescribed course of study as outlined in the curriculum for each program must be satisfactorily completed. In order to graduate, it is required that a student be in good academic standing as defined in the catalog and all financial obligations satisfied prior to graduating.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation for their academic program.

In addition to the academic requirements for graduation, students must receive the endorsement of the faculty responsible for the degree program in which they are enrolled. Students must demonstrate that they have acted responsibly in attempting to live in accord with standards of wholesome Christian character and with general standards of the institution.

Students anticipating graduation must complete a Degree Conferral form at the time of advising appointment for registration for the semester preceding the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester of intended graduation.

In order to qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed, and all requirements met by the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by one term prior to completing the program. If the student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following year.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Virginia University of Lynchburg does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion (Title VII), ethnic origin (Title VI), handicap (Section 504), sexual orientation, or age in the administration of its educational and employment policies, and maintains such nondiscriminatory policy in all aspects of operation in the administration of its educational programs and policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic or other University administered programs, except as such conditions may constitute bona fide occupational or assignment qualifications.

Discriminatory acts of any kind are strictly forbidden.

In keeping with the historical values of Virginia University of Lynchburg, the University endeavors to treat all students and employees with dignity, justice, and fairness. The University strives to provide equal opportunity and an atmosphere of nondiscrimination. This policy is to be implemented throughout the University and is the responsibility of all departments and personnel, supervisory and nonsupervisory. Americans with Disabilities Act Virginia University of Lynchburg will make reasonable accommodations for the known physical or mental disabilities of an otherwise qualified individual (as those terms defined in the American with Disabilities Act). If you have a disability which requires an accommodation, please contact Dr. Patricia Price, Director of Disability Services, 2058 Garfield Avenue, Lynchburg, Virginia 24501 or by telephone 434-528-5276 (Ext. 1114). The students and the Director will engage in an interactive process to determine reasonable accommodations.

TITLE IX

In compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972, Virginia University of Lynchburg works to ensure that “no person shall...on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.” The University’s Director of Disability Services is D. Patricia Price, pprice@vul.edu, or 434-528-5276 ext. 1114. Inquiries about the University’s compliance with and policies that prohibit discrimination on these bases may be directed to:

NON-STAFF GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Virginia University of Lynchburg is committed to a policy of ensuring that no individual is excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in University programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, political affiliation, age, disability, national origin, or sex. Virginia University of Lynchburg is also committed to a policy of ensuring that no individual is subject to retaliation for participating in the grievance process, complying with any law or reporting a violation of such law to a governmental authority, reporting an incidence of fraud, abuse, or gross mismanagement, or exercising any right otherwise protected by law.

Any individual (including any student) who believes that he or she has been subjected to discrimination, harassment, or unfair treatment, or has been denied access or accommodations required by law in a Virginia University of Lynchburg program or activity shall have the right to invoke this Grievance Procedure. Any individual who believes that he or she has been subjected to retaliation for participating in the grievance process, complying with any law or reporting a violation of such law to a governmental authority, reporting an incidence of fraud, abuse, or gross mismanagement, or exercising any right otherwise protected by law shall also have the right to invoke this Grievance Procedure.

The identities of the grievant and respondents (the individuals against whom the allegations in the grievance are directed), as well as all witnesses, will not be disclosed except as required by law or policy, or as necessary to fully investigate the grievance.

INFORMAL GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Individuals who want to file an informal grievance alleging discrimination, harassment, or retaliation pursuant to this Grievance Procedure must send the informal grievance to the Director of Disability Services within 45 calendar days of the date of the actions or failures to act being grieved, or the date the individual should reasonably have known about those actions or failures to act.¹ Disability Services is located in Humbles Hall. The Director of Disability Services can be reached at 434-528-5276 ext. 1114 or pprice@vul.edu.

Individuals desiring to lodge a grievance are encouraged, but not required, to consult with the Director of Disability Services as soon as concerns arise. The Director of Disability Services will attempt conflict resolution at the lowest level possible and move forward when necessary to the next appropriate level. If the dispute cannot be resolved by this informal procedure within 14 calendar days of the date on which the informal procedure was initiated, the individual may then lodge a formal written grievance (see below).

FORMAL WRITTEN GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Formal written grievances should be submitted to the Director of Disability Services (or alternate designee—see footnote 1). The Director of Disability Services will work with University personnel and the individual(s) in a timely manner to resolve disagreements.

The following procedures will be used to review all formal written grievances alleging discrimination, harassment, or retaliation:

- The written grievance shall specify the nature of the act claimed to be in violation and the period of time and circumstance in which the grievance arose. The written grievance shall include a statement concerning what actions, if any, have been taken to resolve the issue prior to filing the grievance, and what the desired remedy the grievant seeks. The written grievance shall contain the name and contact information of the person making the grievance. The University will not consider a grievance that fails to comply with this paragraph but will inform the grievant of the deficiencies in the grievance and provide the grievant with seven calendar days within which to remedy those deficiencies. The grievance may be supplemented by supporting documents and/or affidavits from persons having first-hand knowledge of the facts.
- The grievance should be filed within 45 calendar days of the alleged violation (not including the 14-day period for an informal resolution described above), or within 45 calendar days of the date, the individual should reasonably have known about those actions or failures to act. If the written grievance is not filed within the 45-day period, the University will not consider the grievance, absent a showing of good cause, such as circumstances beyond the grievant's control. If the written grievance is filed outside the 45-day period, it should include a clear explanation of why the grievance was not filed within the prescribed period.
- Disability Services will investigate all pertinent facts and circumstances in support of the alleged violation.
- Disability Services may attempt resolution of a grievance through mutual agreement of the affected parties at any point during the course of the investigation.
- Should such resolution be achieved, the investigation shall be ended. The terms and conditions of the resolution agreement shall be issued to the grievant and to the appropriate faculty member, administrator or department charged with implementing the prescribed action. A copy of the agreement will be filed in the grievant's file in the office of the Director of Disability Services.
- Where resolution through mutual agreement is not achieved, written findings from the investigation, along with a recommendation for resolving the grievance, shall be forwarded simultaneously to the grievant and to the responsible administrator of the charged department by the Director of Disability Services.
- The Director of Disability Services shall appoint a Formal Grievance Panel of at least three university personnel from departments other than the department complained of, and schedule a Grievance Hearing for a date within 21 calendar days of the receipt of the formal grievance, and shall provide the grievant and respondents with at least three calendar days written notice of the Grievance Hearing. The Hearing Notice shall include the allegations, the general manner in which the hearing will be conducted, and the rights of the grievant and respondents at the hearing, including the rights to submit documentary evidence and verbal testimony, and the right of the grievant to cross-examine respondents and witnesses and rebut evidence.

- The grievant and respondents shall bring all witnesses and/or evidence to the Grievance Hearing, except that evidence previously submitted by the grievant in the informal or formal grievance procedure need not be brought to the Grievance Hearing. The Formal Grievance Panel shall conduct the hearing, accept evidence, determine the order in which evidence will be presented and witnesses examined and cross-examined, identify any additional witnesses or evidence relevant to the grievance, and question the grievant, respondents, and/or witnesses.
- Within 28 calendar days of the receipt of the request of the formal grievance, the Formal Grievance Panel shall make and send a decision to the grievant and respondents which shall include the specific issues raised in the grievance, the applicable standards, the facts alleged, specific findings concerning the merit or lack of merit of each allegation, the basis for the decision, the remedies to be provided, if any, and the grievant's right to appeal the decision (see Grievant Appeal Procedure, below).
- Upon final resolution of a grievance, copies of all records will be forwarded to and maintained by the Director of Disability Services. All records relating to complained-of failures to provide reasonable accommodations are evaluative in nature and, along with all medical information contained in grievance records, shall be deemed confidential.

If the grievance is partly or completely against the Director of Disability Services, the grievance should be submitted to any of the following: Chief Operating Officer at 434-528-5276 ext. 1111 or Ltucker@vul.edu.

GRIEVANT APPEAL PROCEDURE

Grievants who are dissatisfied with the Formal Grievance Panel decision must send an appeal within 14 calendar days of their receipt of the decision to the Chief Operating Office. The Chief Operating Officer office is located in Humbles Hall, and he or she can be reached at 434-528-5276. The appeal must be signed by the grievant and include the following:

- The name of and contact information for the grievant;
- A copy of the Formal Grievance Panel decision; and
- A statement concerning the specific flaws in the Formal Grievance Panel decision and why that decision should be reversed.

Within 14 calendar days of the Chief Operating Officer's receipt of the appeal, he or she shall send a final decision letter to the grievant. The final decision shall include the specific issues raised on appeal, specific findings concerning the merit or lack of merit of each raised issue, and the basis for the decision. This final decision letter is not subject to appeal.

A grievant who believes that his or her grievance has not been handled appropriately at any stage of the grievance procedure should bring this to the attention of the Director of Disability Services.

If the grievance is partly or completely against the Chief Operating Officer, the appeal should be submitted to University President Dr. Kathy Franklin, at 434-528-5276 or kfranklin@vul.edu

UNIVERSITY STAFF APPEAL PROCEDURE

Faculty and staff are required to implement accommodations and remedial actions recommended or required through the above procedure. If faculty or staff members question an action, remedy, or accommodation recommended by Disability Services in the informal procedure or the decision of the Formal Grievance Panel in the formal procedure and wish to submit an appeal, they must continue to afford the grievant the action, remedy, or accommodation while their appeal is considered. To appeal, the faculty or staff member shall submit a formal written appeal to the Chief Operating Officer. The relevant documentation and the reasoning for and against the requested accommodation(s) will be reviewed by the Chief Operating Officer who will issue a written decision within 14 calendar days. This final decision letter is not subject to appeal.

FILING WITH THE OFFICE OF CIVIL RIGHTS

The formal and informal procedures listed above are encouraged, but not mandatory. Individuals may also file a complaint directly with the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights (OCR) in the following ways.

- E-mail: Grievants may file a complaint, using the following e-mail address: ocr@ed.gov
- Online: Grievants may file a complaint with OCR using OCR's electronic complaint form at <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/complaintintro.html>

DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAMS

Virginia University of Lynchburg offers multiple degrees, programs, and courses online through Distance Education (DE). These electronically-delivered courses and programs provide the same high-quality instruction as face-to-face classes and encourage a plenitude of interaction. Online courses are delivered through Moodle, an Internet-based software platform. Students in online courses need daily access to a computer with internet connections. Students should also have a back-up plan for accessing a second computer should any technical problem arise.

Prospective students may download an application online at www.vul.edu or mail the application to the Admissions Director at the address listed above. It is mandatory that all online students are required to have access to a high-speed computer with e-mail and Internet service.

STUDENT TRANSFERS

Students Transferring from Other Colleges or Universities

Usually, a student transferring from another college or university who is eligible for re-entrance to that college shall also be eligible for admission to Virginia University of Lynchburg. It is the role of the University to help each student succeed in a program from which he can benefit. If a transfer student is ineligible to return to a particular curriculum in a previous college, generally he will not be allowed to enroll in the same curriculum in the college until two semesters elapse or until he/she completes an approved developmental program at the college. The Admissions Committee of the University shall decide on each case and usually shall impose special conditions for the admissions of such students, including “conditional admittance.”

Students transferring from other colleges should consult with the Director of Admissions for an assessment of credits in order to determine their academic standing before registering for classes. Generally no credit will be given for courses with grades lower than “C.” A transfer student may be advised to repeat courses if it is clearly to his/her advantage to do so in order to make satisfactory progress in his/her chosen curriculum. Students must earn at least 30% of the credit hours required for the degree from Virginia University of Lynchburg.

Students Transferring to Other Colleges or Universities

Students planning to transfer to a four-year college or university are responsible for determining the transfer admission policies and requirements of the department or program at the intended institution. The four-year institution’s policies and requirements should guide a student in choosing a course of study and appropriate electives at Virginia University of Lynchburg. Deans will provide assistance to students in designing an appropriate program of study. Virginia University of Lynchburg offers the Associate in Liberal Arts and Sciences. This transfer program is designed so that students can parallel VUL’s course work with four-year college requirements. Because of the changing academic requirements of the many Virginia schools, students are encouraged to have direct contact with the institution to which they plan to transfer. Credits earned at Virginia University of Lynchburg are transferable to other institutions solely at the discretion of the receiving institution.

Applicants for admission will be considered for admission without regard to race, color, gender, national or ethnic origin, religion, age, or disability. Virginia University of Lynchburg reserves the right to refuse or revoke admission or readmission to any prospective or returning student. Applicants who intentionally withhold information or who falsify information will be required to withdraw from Virginia University of Lynchburg.

POLICY ON PRIOR LEARNING

Virginia University of Lynchburg does not accept any credit for life-work experience.

SCHEDULE OF COURSES

All VUL undergraduate and graduate courses are offered annually. The schedule of classes each semester is available from the student’s advisor.

DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES

Quality Control (Q.C.) courses are designed for students who enter, after being assessed during Orientation, on the developmental track and need assistance with some of the basic skills required to be successful in college. The Below 100 level coursework hours are given credit but cannot be used in lieu of liberal arts requirements. The institution offers four developmental courses that are listed below:

Q.C. 098 English/Reading (1 credit hour). This developmental course serves as an enrichment course designed to help students enhance their basic language skills. The course provides a review of grammatical and syntactical material and helps students improve their reading comprehension skills. A student must receive a grade of “C” or better in order to receive credit and move to the next level in sequence.

Q.C. 099 Vocabulary Building (1 credit hour). This course follows in sequence Q.C. 098 and is designed to continue its review of Standard English usage. Q.C. 099 focuses on honing the higher level reading and writing skills necessary for success in the various academic disciplines. In addition, students study the components of a well-written essay. A student must receive a grade of “C” or better in Q.C. 099 in order to receive credit.

Q.C. 097 Fundamentals of Math (1 credit hour). A review course in the fundamentals of mathematics required of entering college students who do not make satisfactory scores on the placement tests.

EDUC 100 Learning Plus/Career Services (1 credit hour). This is a mandatory interactive self-paced computerized instructional laboratory program designed to assist students to improve their reading, writing, mathematical skills, critical skills, and test-taking skills.

VETERANS

Virginia University of Lynchburg is approved to offer GI Bill® educational benefits by the Virginia State Approving Agency. *GI Bill ® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by the VA is available at the official U.S. government website at benefits.va.gov/gibill.

The appropriate Military GUIDE for each branch of the Armed Services (MOS), along with the standards set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) are used to evaluate the military training/education of service men and women. Upon the presentation of proper certificates, (DD-214 may include information), service education and training will be evaluated, and proper credit awarded. Veterans Administration benefit claims are processed through the Registrar’s office.

Veterans Grievance Procedure

The Virginia State Approving Agency (SAA), is the approving authority of education and training programs for Virginia. Their office investigates complaints of GI Bill beneficiaries. While most complaints should initially follow the school grievance policy, if the situation cannot be resolved at the school, the beneficiary should contact the SAA office via email at saa@dvs.virginia.gov.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy for Federal Veterans Education Benefits

Students receiving Federal Veteran Education Benefits are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress by earning a minimum 2.0 semester grade-point average (GPA) and complete at least 67% of the courses attempted within the semester:

Federal Veterans Education Benefit Statuses

Federal Veteran Education Benefit Satisfactory Academic Progress calculations will be completed prior to the start of the next consecutive semester. Once the student's final grades are reviewed, their Federal Veteran Education Benefits will be placed on one of the following statuses: Good Standing, Warning, Probation or Suspension (see below for more information regarding each status). Students will be notified of their status via their VUL student email.

Good Standing for Students Receiving Federal Veterans Education Benefit

Good Standing means the student has successfully met the Federal Veteran Education Benefit Satisfactory Academic Progress criteria (VA SAP) for the semester in question, and they are eligible to continue receiving their benefits. A student will be eligible to receive their Federal VA Education Benefits while their status is in Good Standing. If a student is placed on warning or probation and they meet the VA SAP criteria in their next semester of attendance, they will earn back good standing.

Warning

A student's Federal Veterans Education Benefits will be placed on warning if they fail to meet the VA SAP criteria while their benefits are in Good Standing. Students in a warning status are eligible to continue receiving Veterans Benefits.

Probation

A student's Federal Veterans Education Benefits will be placed on Probation if any of the following occurs:

- Fail to meet the Federal Veterans SAP criteria while on warning
- Approved Federal Veterans Education Benefit Suspension Appeal Form on file
- Successfully Reestablish Satisfactory Academic Progress (earn 6 credits with a minimum 2.0 semester GPA) while on Suspension.

Students are still eligible for Federal Veterans benefits while on Probation.

Suspension

If a student's Federal Veterans Education Benefits are on Suspension, they are no longer eligible to receive their benefits. A student's benefits can be suspended due to the following reasons:

- Failure to meet the VA SAP criteria while on Probation;
- Incomplete Federal Veterans Education Benefit Suspension Appeal form submitted;
- Denied Federal Veterans Education Benefit Suspension Appeal form. VUL is required to notify the Department of Veterans Affairs anytime a student's Veterans benefits are placed on Suspension.

Reinstatement of Federal Veteran Education Benefits

When a student's Federal VA Education Benefits are placed on Suspension, the student has two options to regain eligibility for benefits:

1. Federal VA Education Benefit Suspension Appeal Form: Students that have been placed on Suspension will receive an email that includes a link to the Federal VA Education Benefit Suspension Appeal form. The appeal form should be filled out by students who had an extenuating circumstance occur during their schooling that directly caused them to not meet the satisfactory academic progress criteria.
2. Re-establish Satisfactory Academic Progress: Students are able to regain eligibility for their Federal VA Education Benefits by successfully completing a minimum of six college level credits with a minimum 2.0 semester GPA. Once this step is completed, the student would be placed on Probation, and the student would be eligible to receive their Federal VA Education Benefits for the next semester of attendance.

Students Called for Military Service

- Students called for active service in the armed forces of the United States or who are requested to work for the Federal government during a national emergency will receive a 100% refund of all tuition and fees (as allowed for under Section 10.08 of Chapter TCS 10, "special circumstances involving unforeseen hardship").
- Students called for active service in the armed forces of the United States or who are requested to work for the Federal government during a national emergency will receive priority readmission and service members who perform service whether voluntary or involuntary, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days under a call or order to active duty of more than 30 consecutive days will be promptly readmitted to the institution with the same academic status as long as they meet the following conditions:
 - The institution was given notice of the service member's absence for service.
 - The cumulative length of absences from the institution by reason of service does not exceed five years.
 - The service member gave notice of his or her intent to return no later than three years after the completion of the period of service (for a service member who is hospitalized for or convalescing from an illness or injury incurred in or aggravated during the performance of service, notice must be provided no later than 2 years after the end of the period necessary for recovery).
- Students shall not be penalized for class absence due to all unavoidable or legitimate required military obligations not to exceed two (2) weeks. The faculty member is responsible to provide reasonable accommodations or opportunities to make up exams or other course assignments that have an impact on the course grade.
- Students that have unavoidable or legitimate required military obligations that exceed (2) weeks but are less than 30 days should seek special permission from the instructor to complete course work or withdraw (as allowed for under Section 10.08 of Chapter TCS 10, "Special circumstances involving unforeseen hardship").

- Students are responsible for notifying faculty members of such circumstances as far in advance as possible and for providing documentation to the instructor to verify the reason for the absence.

(Section 484C of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, or 20 U.S.C. 1091c & Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) (38 U.S.C. 4301-4334).

Veterans Payment Policy

Any student receiving Veterans benefits will be given an additional semester to pay outstanding balances without penalty (as long as they are receiving their benefit for the term in question). Any remaining balance due at the end of the term will be excluded from being sent to collections. If the student still has a balance remaining at the end of the following term at Virginia University of Lynchburg, that balance would then be subject to the normal collections process at that time and would be subject to collections fees.

In-State Tuition and Fees

Veterans and Their Family Members

- A veteran living in this state, regardless of whether the veteran is a resident, if the veteran was discharged or released from at least 90 days of active service within the three years before the date of enrollment in the institution; and
- The veteran's spouse or child, living in this state, who is eligible for certain federal benefits by virtue of his or her relationship to the veteran. Act 21 further provides that an individual who is enrolled in a college and has been charged resident fees under its provisions on the date that begins the third year after the qualifying veteran was discharged or released from service shall continue to be charged resident fees for as long as the individual maintains continuous enrollment at the college.
- All students that meet the criteria listed above are required to have an approved Residency Verification Form on file prior to the start of the semester.

Members of Armed Forces On Active Duty, Spouses, and Dependents

- Nonresident members of the armed forces and persons engaged in alternative service who are stationed in Virginia on active duty, and their spouses and dependents, are entitled to in-state tuition rates during the period that such persons are stationed in Virginia.
- All students that meet the criteria listed above are required to have an approved Residency Verification Form on file prior to the start of the semester.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE POLICY

Students who decide upon consultation with their advisor, to arrange for a leave of absence from Virginia University of Lynchburg, must file a properly completed application for the leave. The major purpose for filing an application for a leave of absence is to clear the student's record, making it possible for him or her return to the college with relative ease, and to set down clearly the terms of the student's future matriculation and financial aid. Applications for a leave of absence are available at the Office of the Registrar. It is the University that makes the final decisions whether you may return to the institution. Leave of absence will not be approved for students subject to disqualifications or dismissal due to academic deficiencies or disciplinary action. Conditions for return include the student continuing to fulfill payment arrangements with the University while on a leave of absence. Failure to fulfill this obligation will result in official withdrawal.

The following Leaves of Absence may be requested:

- Medical Leave of Absence: Requests must be accompanied by a statement from a medical doctor explaining why the student must interrupt enrollment.
- Military Leave of Absence: For students being called to active military service, Title 5, Section 40401, provides for an extended leave of absence up to a maximum of two years due to approved educational reasons and for circumstances beyond a student's control. The university will approve a leave for students called for active military service as a result of mobilization of U.S. military reserves.
- Personal and Planned Educational Leaves of Absence: is defined as a planned interruption or pause in a student's regular education during which the student temporarily ceases formal studies at VUL. The student must plan to return to VUL at the end of the leave. Such activities may be for the purpose of clarifying or enriching educational goals or to allow time to address personal matters and thus enhance the prospect of successful completion of the student's academic program.

Please be advised that if you receive financial aid, there may be implications if you interrupt your studies by taking a leave of absence. Please inquire with the Financial Aid Office. Also be advised that the leave of absence does not exceed 180 days in any 12-month period; and upon the student's return from the leave of absence, the student is permitted to complete the coursework he began prior to the leave of absence.

WITHDRAWAL

The Registrar's Office must be notified if a student decides to withdraw from all courses at the University. The notification may be in writing, by phone, by e-mail, or in person. The student's withdrawal date is the date the student began the withdrawal process or officially notified VUL of intent to withdraw by contacting the Registrar's Office.

For students who fail to officially withdraw, the institution may administratively withdraw the student. The withdraw date for an administrative withdrawal will be determined at the University's option to be:

1. the midpoint of the enrollment period, or
2. the last documented date of attendance at an academically related event, or
3. the date an event occurred which prevented the student from officially withdrawing from the institution. Such events include illness, grievous personal loss, or other such circumstances beyond the student's control.

To be considered 'withdrawn' a student must have ceased enrollment in all classes at VUL. If a student reduces their course load from 12 to 9 hours for example, the reduction represents an enrollment change, not a withdrawal.

Unofficial withdrawals

Students who fail to withdraw but stop attending class are considered unofficial withdrawals. If the student stopped attending prior to the 60% point of the term, the student will be billed for the outstanding charges as a result of the Return of Title IV funds. Unofficial withdrawals are processed within 30 days of determining the student was an unofficial withdrawal.

Refund Policy

Refunds for room and board are based on the percentage of the enrollment period remaining after the date of withdrawal. No refunds will be issued after 60% of the enrollment period has been completed.

Students who withdraw, drop out, or are expelled from the University within the drop/add period receive 100% refund of tuition and related fees.

Students who withdraw, drop out, or are expelled from the University after the 60% point of the enrollment period will receive no refund.

Students who withdraw, drop out, or are expelled from the University after the drop/add period and before 60% of the enrollment period has been completed may be entitled to a pro-rated refund.

Students Who Do Not Receive Federal Title IV Financial Aid

The refund shall be determined by the Business Office and university refund policy by computing the percentage of the enrollment period remaining after the date of withdrawal times the tuition and fees originally assessed to the student. At no time will refunds be awarded after the 60% point of the enrollment period. Please review the Student Accounts Refund included in the catalog for more information.

Students Who Receive Federal Title IV Financial Aid (R2T4)

The US Department of Education requires institutions to apply the Return to Title IV Funds policy for students withdrawing from a university who receive Title IV financial aid. The Title

IV programs include Federal Pell Grants, Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants, TEACH Grants, Direct Loans, Direct Plus Loans, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOGs). Please review the Student Accounts Refund and Title IV Refund Procedure included in the catalog for more information. Please review the Student Accounts Refund and Title IV Refund Procedure included in the catalog for more information.

READMISSION

Any student whose enrollment at the University has been interrupted for more than one semester must complete a readmission application with the Office of Admission. The student must also submit a statement of intent, which includes (1) an explanation of the reason for leaving the University and (2) reason(s) for desiring to return.

An official Leave of Absence is required for readmission to the University. All readmission applications must be on file in the Registrar's Office one month prior to the first day of classes and validated with the appropriate fee of $20.00 (non-refundable).

Students who attended another institution after leaving VUL must submit an official transcript from the host institution(s) before readmission with advance standing is considered.

ORIENTATION PROGRAM

An orientation program has been established to acquaint new freshmen students to the purpose and programs at the University. All entering freshmen are required to sign up for the orientation program. A grade is assigned by the instructor for students who successfully complete the program. The orientation program is required for graduation in the Certificate, Associate, and Bachelor programs. Online orientation is offered also for students who enroll in the online coursework.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND SERVICES

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association (SGA) is the official and foremost student organization on campus. It is the major core governance for all other organizations that will exist on campus. The SGA operates under the authorities outlined in its Constitution and Bylaws. Under the authority vested in it through the Constitution, it maintains the responsibility to hold annual campus-wide elections, facilitate student-sponsored activities, and regulate and sanction all student organizations. Through its president and other elective officers, the organization works with its advisor, the faculty, staff, and administration. It also holds permanent membership on various Student Affairs Boards. The SGA serves as the official voice of the student body that enables students to exercise self-governance through the democratic process. The Student Government Association also actively serves to ignite and make visible the spirit of loyalty among all of the University's constituents.

Counseling Service

College counseling is considered a major component of campus life for the academic and social well-being of students. A professional counselor and peer counselors fulfill their roles in helping students resolve some of their anxieties and other factors that may interfere with their day to day routines.

Counseling provided for students is kept within the realm of a trusting and confidential atmosphere.

Career Services

The Career Development Skills Center helps students to successfully navigate through the career development process. These include workshops, networking events, panels, and webinars. Students receive additional skills in resume writing, and job interviewing in the Learning Plus/Career Services course, which is a general education requirement for all students.

Health Insurance

All students are required to have health insurance while attending Virginia University of Lynchburg.

You may maintain coverage through your existing parental or personal policy, or you may choose to purchase the University's student group insurance.

Housing and Residence Hall Living

Housing accommodations for students are provided through the college for on-campus living. The housing application accompanied by a deposit is required in order that students may secure on-campus housing for the year. Students must read the "Student Housing Agreement" in its entirety before he or she signs the housing application and contract. Students are expected to abide by the rules and regulations of Student Conduct as outlined in the University's Catalog and Housing Manual. Failure to comply may result in the loss of housing.

Commuter Students

Some students who live outside of the immediate college vicinity choose to drive, use public transportation, or walk to campus. Virginia University of Lynchburg appreciates the opportunity to serve its commuter population and attempts to accommodate their needs in the most convenient ways possible. These include a commuter lounge area located at the lower floor of the library, computer lab, and other study areas when their classes are not in session. All students are encouraged to make good use of their time between classes by visiting the library or preparing for their classes in areas designated for study.

Campus Safety and Security

Virginia University of Lynchburg is concerned about the safety of its community and visitors to its campus. The Safety and Security Office focuses on the protection of college assets, but the primary goal is to assure a safe, secure, and comfortable living environment which promotes learning and personal development. Respect, consideration, and fairness to others are paramount in our daily operations. The Safety and Security Office is an important area within Student Affairs.

Information on emergency procedures is included in all the University's manuals. A list of emergency numbers is provided to all students during orientation and is available at all times from the Student Affairs Office.

A Crisis Management Team and an Emergency Team are available in case of need.

Local police, fire department and ambulance services can be reached from any university phone in the event of an emergency.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Classification of Students

All students are classified according to the following categories:

Freshmen

A student who has been admitted to the University and has not yet earned 30 semester hours of collegework.

Sophomore

A student who has earned at least 30 semester hours but not more than 55 semester hours.

Junior

A student who has earned at least 56 semester hours but not more than 90 semester hours.

Senior

A student who has earned at least 91 semester hours.

Student Status

Full-Time Student - A student is considered full-time if he/she is carrying 12 credit hours or more of coursework in a semester.

Part-Time Student - A student is considered a part-time student if he/she is carrying less than 12 hours of work.

Absences and Withdrawal

In the event that a student must be absent from class, it is the student's responsibility to make necessary arrangements with the instructor. Faculty members decide their own policies concerning class attendance.

Whenever possible, students are expected to report to their academic advisors any anticipated extended absences. Students who do not expect to register for a given semester (except summer) should consult with their academic advisors. If a student does not register for a period of two years (four semesters), it will be necessary for the student to apply for reinstatement. In such cases, students must meet the degree requirements in effect at the time they resume their coursework.

Students who expect to discontinue their work at Virginia University of Lynchburg are expected to comply with the Withdrawal included in this catalog and complete withdrawal forms, which require exit interviews from the offices of the Deans.

Academic Standing

To remain in good academic standing, students must have successfully completed 75% of the courses in which they have enrolled for that academic year and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 for all coursework.

Academic Probation

In the event that a student fails to meet the above standards for good academic standing, he or she will be placed on academic probation. Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0 may be subject to academic dismissal.

Appeal Process

Students may request exceptions to the above policy by presenting a written description of their extenuating circumstances and their plans for the establishment of good standing to the Academic Dean.

Examinations

The final examination is mandatory for the professor in each course, and the professor is free to decide the weight of the examination in evaluating course grades. Attendance at the final meeting of the class is required. Serious excuses for absences from the class must be submitted in writing and will be considered by the professor. The schedule for final class meetings, examinations, or other activities is announced in the schedule of classes and the professor's syllabus.

Academic Advising

Academic Advisors help students to meet their goals, understand core curriculum, and draft an educational plan and access on-campus resources.

Grading Systems

Final Grades are given at the end of each semester. The grades, which are used to indicate the quality of a student's work, are relative; the significance varies according to the level, the objectives, the materials, and procedures of a given course. Within the following definitions, instructors seek to evaluate the achievement of their students:

- The grade of "A" is awarded only for outstanding (Quality points per credit hour: A=4.0.)
- The grade of "B" indicates that the student's work, though not of excellence, is in many ways distinguished. It indicates initiative, enthusiasm, and creative thought (Quality points per credit hour: B= 3.0.)
- The grade of "C": indicates the broad range of generally satisfactory work. It signifies that the student has learned the basic materials and skills of the course and that his/her work is acceptable, adequate, though not distinguished (Quality points per credit hour: C= 2.0.)
- The grade of "D" indicates that the student's work has been in some respects acceptable, but was less than satisfactory, with perhaps a few noticeable deficiencies. It denotes that his/her work has barely met the minimum standards considered necessary for passing the course and receiving credit (Quality points per credit hour: D=1.0.)
- The grade of "F" signifies that the student's work has fallen below the minimum standard and that he has failed to pass the course (0 credit and 0 quality points).
- Work incomplete. The grade of "I" will be given in a course only for a reason of illness or some other unavoidable condition acceptable to the instructor. In each case, the instructor is required to report to the Dean an explanation of the reason for the "I" and what the student must do to remove it. The student will be granted a reasonable time, not later than the end of the semester immediately following, in consultation with the instructor, to remove an incomplete. Any "I" remaining at the end of that following semester will become

- "F" unless the Dean has granted a further extension of time.
- Withdraw. The grade of "W" is given after the first four weeks and within the first six weeks of a semester if a student drops a course with the written consent of his advisor, the instructor, and the Dean.
- When a student is registered in a course as an auditor, no final grade is to be given, but the symbol AU shall be used if attendance has been regular, the symbol W if attendance has been unsatisfactory.

Credit Hour

A Credit hour is defined as an amount of work that Reasonably approximates not less than -

- One hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or ten to twelve weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or
- At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other activities as established by the institution, including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading toward to the award of credit hours; and
- Permits an institution, in determining the amount of work associated with a credit hour, to take into account a variety of delivery methods, measurements of student work, academic calendars, disciplines, and degree levels.

Grading Scale

A = 90-100

B = 80-89

C = 70-79

D = 60-69

F = Below 60

I = Incomplete

ACADEMIC STANDING, PROBATION, AND ACADEMIC SUSPENSION

Non-Federal Funding Students

Each Virginia University of Lynchburg student has an academic standing determined by his/her cumulative grade point average. Transfer course work is not included in the VUL grade point average (GPA). To remain in good standing undergraduates must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher. If at the end of a semester, a student fails to meet the minimum requirement (2.0), he/she will be placed on probation.

Academic Probation

Students are placed on probation if their cumulative GPA falls below a 2.0. Students on probation have one term/semester to bring their cumulative GPA back to a 2.0 or higher. Failure to do so will result in academic suspension.

Academic Suspension

Students are placed on Academic Suspension for failure to bring their cumulative grade point average (GPA) to 2.0 after one term/semester on academic probation.

Students academically suspended are not allowed to register for or audit classes, negotiate with professors for grades other than those already posted or make further arrangements to remove incomplete grades. In order to return to VUL, students must apply for academic reinstatement. A suspended student is not eligible for academic reinstatement the semester immediately following his/her academic suspension. Students receiving scholarships (athletic/academic) who are academically suspended lose their scholarship.

Once you have been suspended, these are the possible outcomes:

- Reinstatement: Reinstatement after suspension is possible but requires several steps to assure that you will return to good academic standing. This is the process:
 - Submit an appeal. Meet with your academic advisor and develop a plan to get your GPA to a cumulative 2.0. Submit your plan to the Academic Dean. If you have been suspended for the current term/semester and are attempting to enroll immediately, your advisor should alert that office to that fact, so a quick decision can be made, if possible. If your plan is approved, you will be allowed to register. If your plan is not approved or your request for reinstatement is denied, you will be dismissed from your program.
- Dismissal

SASTISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS (SAP)

One of the conditions to maintain eligibility for financial aid (federal, state, and institutional scholarships, grants, loans, and work) is to meet the requirements of Satisfactory Academic Progress as defined by the federal government. This assessment of your academic record measures your progress towards earning a degree. It is calculated differently from your academic standing (see your Academic Advisor for how your academic standing is calculated).

Components of the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

1. You must complete 67% of all of the Virginia University of Lynchburg's hours you register for/attempt towards your degree, earning grades of "A", "B", "C", "D", and "P" (completion ratio). Grades of "F", "IP", "I", and "W" do not count. Repeated courses count towards hours attempted and count in passed hours when a passing grade is received. You may receive aid for only ONE repeat of a previously passed class. Remedial courses are counted in hours attempted and counted in hours passed when a passing grade is received.
2. You must maintain an overall cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher. Remedial courses are included in the grade point average calculation. When repeating a class, the highest grade is used in calculating your grade point average.
3. All periods of enrollment are included in these calculations whether or not you received financial aid during those periods.
4. Monitoring Progress: Your progress will be assessed at the end of each term.

Financial Aid Warning

You will be placed on financial aid warning in your next term of enrollment if you do not meet component #1 and/or component #2 above. You will be notified of this status. You can only receive aid for one semester under this warning status.

Financial aid warning lasts until the next time your progress is assessed (at the end of your next term of enrollment). You will continue to be eligible for financial aid while on financial aid warning.

Financial Aid Termination

Eligibility for future financial aid will be ended if your cumulative record does not reflect a minimum 67% completion ratio and a minimum cumulative 2.0 grade point average the first time your record is assessed after your financial aid warning term. Eligibility for future aid or an appeal will also be ended if you fail to meet the terms of your Satisfactory Academic Progress Academic Plan and/or earned "F's" during your Financial Aid Warning term.

You may attend another college or university while trying to bring your record back into compliance with the Satisfactory Academic Progress standards. Submitting an application for academic reinstatement does not automatically grant a student the opportunity to return to VUL.

Right To Appeal

If your eligibility for financial aid has been terminated you may appeal to the Office of Financial Aid for consideration for a Financial Aid Probation period based upon extraordinary extenuating circumstances. These circumstances include, but are not limited to, illness or injury that you may have suffered, death of a relative, or other circumstances that result in undue hardship that can be documented by a third-party professional such as a healthcare provider, counselor, cleric, lawyer, etc. It must be shown that there is a reasonable and established plan to prevent failing to meet the Components of the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy again. A 'complete appeal' is one that is written well and submitted with all relevant documentation. Incomplete appeals (appeals without supporting documentation) will not be reviewed or receive a response.

Repetition of A Course

When a student receives "F" for a course and later repeats the course and passes it, both the original failure and the passing grade are recorded on the student's transcript.

Scholarship Ineligibility

There are several scholarships available for students to apply for annually. A suspended student (athlete/academic) is not eligible to continue receiving a scholarship.

COMMENCEMENT

The University holds its annual Commencement ceremony in May, typically the first Saturday of May, of each year. Only students who have successfully completed all specific graduation requirements for each program (including all coursework prior to the Commencement ceremony) are eligible to participate in the ceremony. You are not eligible to participate in the Commencement ceremony if your financial obligations are not satisfied by the application due date. Your diploma and transcripts will not be released. It will be necessary to contact the Office of the Registrar directly when all debts are satisfied.

FINANCIAL AID

General Financial Aid Information

Virginia University of Lynchburg (VUL) seeks to offer quality education and services at the lowest possible costs to each student. The total funds for operating a college program come not only from the student tuition costs but include donations received from alumni, churches, businesses, and friends of the University. VUL has tried to keep the costs of an education at a minimum by seeking funds from other sources other than student tuition.

There are several means by which a student may finance his or her education. Students desiring information of the financial aid that is available may contact the Financial Aid Office at the University. The following are some of the options and process for applying for each of them.

How to Apply for Financial Aid

1. Obtain the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) from the Office of Financial Aid at VUL. Complete the FAFSA and return to the Financial Aid office for submission. The results of the FAFSA will be sent to the student in a Student Aid Report (SAR) and will be sent to the school/service in an Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR). The financial aid office will then determine aid for which the student may be eligible.
2. If an application has been selected for verification, the student will be asked to submit a signed copy of his/her parents' federal income taxes as well as a Verification Worksheet that will be provided for the student by the Financial Aid Office. The student may also be asked to provide copies of other documents to resolve any conflicting comments flagged on the SAR/ISIR.
3. If a student wishes to apply for a low interest student loan, he or she must complete an entrance interview and a Master Promissory Note, which can be obtained from the Financial Aid Office. The student must complete the documents and return these to the Financial Aid Office. The entrance interview contains a blank for listing the amount desired. The student MUST list an amount. To Obtain Federal Student loans please go to the following website www.opennet.salliemae.com
4. The student will be certified with the amount listed or the amount for which he or she is eligible (if it is less than the amount requested).
5. The student will receive an award letter after his or her aid is packaged. The student must sign the award letter and RETURN it to the Financial Aid Office before funds can be disbursed.

Pell Grants

The Pell Grant Program is a Title IV federal student aid program. Pell Grants provide money to help students pay for their education after high school. Unlike loans, grants do not have to be repaid. The Pell Grant is available to undergraduate students taking at least three credit hours if enrolled in a program leading to graduation. Applications for the Pell Grant can be obtained from the Financial Aid Office. Use the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) when applying to the Pell Grant Program. For more information concerning the Pell Grants contact the Financial Aid Office.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

The FSEOG is a grant funded by the federal government. Students must complete the FAFSA and demonstrate financial need. The student must receive valid SAR and have all necessary materials in the Financial Aid Office before being considered for these funds. Students who qualify for the Federal Pell grant receive first priority in receiving FSEOG funds.

Federal Work Study (FWS)

A limited number of institutional work assignments called Federal Work-Study (FWS) are available to needy students. In exchange for work performed, the student receives a paycheck. Students should register their skills with the financial aid office by completing a FWS application. Jobs are limited, so early application is important.

Satisfactory Academic Progress for Federal Student Aid

The Financial Aid Office administers the student aid Title IV federal programs under governmental guidelines. The U.S. Department of Education allows each institution to develop its own policy concerning the standard of practice as long as it satisfies governmental guidelines. The Department of Education considers an institution's standard to be reasonable if the standard for a student enrolled in an eligible program is the same as, or more strict than, the institution's standard for a student enrolled in the same academic program who is not receiving assistance under a Title IV program.

VUL's policy is that students who fall below a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 will be placed on academic probation for one semester. Students who progress upward in their cumulative GPA during that semester but who still do not achieve a 2.0 GPA, will be placed on a semester of continued probation. They may receive grants and loans during this semester of continued probation. Students who do not progress upward in their GPA during their probationary semester may not receive grants and loans in the subsequent semester. Satisfactory progress is defined as upward academic movement and any student exhibiting such upward movement shall be deemed eligible to receive grants, loans and institutional financial aid in the semester subsequent to the upward movement.

Any student who maintains a sub-2.00 GPA or whose cumulative GPA declines during a probationary semester shall not be eligible to receive grants and loans in the subsequent semester. Upward movement is always necessary for eligibility the following semester.

TITLE IV REFUND PROCEDURES

Virginia University of Lynchburg shall abide by all Title IV regulations. Title IV regulations require any institution participating in the Title IV program to establish a Return of Federal Funds Policy that is fair, equitable, and uniformly applied. This policy is used to refund unearned tuition, fees, and room and board charges when a student does not complete a period of enrollment. Virginia University of Lynchburg applies the U.S. Department of Education Return of Title IV Funds Policy.

A calculation shall be completed when a recipient of Title IV grant or loan assistance withdraws from the Virginia University of Lynchburg during an enrollment period in which the recipient began attendance. The institution must determine the amount of Title IV grant or loan assistance the student earned as of the withdrawal date. The institution then determines the proper source, according to federal guidelines, and the funds are returned to the proper source, also according to federal guidelines.

Students receiving financial aid must submit written authorization for VUL to hold a credit balance resulting from the TITLE IV funds on the account. Authorization to hold a TITLE IV credit balance will be given through the financial aid award letter. This authorization may be rescinded at any time. Recipients of TITLE IV funds who have requested a refund will be automatically refunded their credit balance within 14 days from the time the credit occurs or the first day of classes, whichever is earlier. All other students must submit a written request by email, letter, FAX, or in person to the Office of Financial Aid.

Refund checks will be provided for the entire credit balance unless the student submits a request otherwise. Students will be limited to two checks per semester. If there is a second refund check within a given semester, it will be written for the remaining credit balance.

Refunds will not be provided for credit balances occurring solely from institutional work-study or scholarships. These accounts will be properly adjusted by the Office of Financial Aid.

Refund Policy for Title IV Federal Financial Aid Recipients

Student Federal Financial Aid (SFA) programs are covered by specific guidelines included in the Higher Education Amendments of 1992. Students receiving assistance from a Stafford Loan, Perkins Loan, Plus Loan, Pell Grant, and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant are subject to specific federal guidelines based on the official date of withdrawal and type of aid received.

Refunds for SFA recipients must be distributed according to a specific order of priority prescribed by Federal law and regulations as follows: Supplemental Loans, Unsubsidized Stafford Loans, Subsidized Stafford Loans, Parental Loans, Pell Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, other SFA programs, other Federal, State, private, or institutional sources of aid, and the student. A portion of the refund can be paid to the student only if funds remain after the refund has been returned to the Federal Aid programs and other sources in order.

Return of Title IV Funds Procedure

1. Determine the percentage of the payment period the student completed. For credit hour programs, the law defines this percentage based on calendar days. To determine the percentage, the number of calendar days up to and including the student's last date of attendance is divided by the number of days in the payment period. The total number of calendar days in the payment period does not include any days in which the student was on an approved leave of absence. In addition, this does not include breaks of five (5) or more days.
2. Determine the amount of aid earned by the student. The amount of aid the student earned for the payment period is determined by multiplying the percentage derived from Step I by the total amount of Title IV aid that was disbursed or that could have been disbursed as of the student's withdrawal date.
3. Compare the amount earned to the amount disbursed. If less aid was disbursed than was earned, the student may receive a post-withdrawal disbursement for the difference. If more aid was disbursed than was earned, the difference is refunded back to Title IV programs.
4. Allocate responsibility for returning unearned aid between the school and the student. Students who receive living expenses will be responsible for repayment of any unearned aid. If the student's share of the unearned funds that must be returned is attributed to a Title IV Loan Program, then repayment will still be based under the terms and conditions of the promissory note. If the student's share of the unearned funds that must be returned is attributed to a Title IV Loan program, the initial amount to return will be reduced by 50%.
5. Distribute the unearned aid back to the Title IV programs. Refer to the Priority Method as outlined in the catalog.

Priority Method

Students paying tuition with assistance of Title IV Funds Financial Aid will have refunds calculated using the Return of Title IV Funds calculation and the institutional refund (See refund policy.) Students not receiving Title IV Funds Financial Aid will have refunds calculated using the institutional refund only (See refund policy).

If a student is terminated or withdraws from the school, refunds are calculated based on the student's last date of attendance. If a refund is due to a student not receiving Title IV Funds Financial Aid, the school will refund directly to the student. If a refund is due to Title IV funds, the school will return the unearned aid for which the school is responsible by repaying funds to the following sources, in order, up to the total net amount disbursed from each source:

1. Unsubsidized FFEL/Direct Stafford Loan
2. Subsidized FFEL/Direct Stafford Loan
3. FFEL/Direct PLUS
4. Pell Grant

5. FSEOG
6. Other Title IV programs

If a student re-enrolls following withdrawal or termination, financial aid will not be disbursed until credits previously paid for have been completed and the student is again maintaining satisfactory academic progress.

- Complete Student Federal financial aid regulations governing withdrawals and refunds and examples maybe found in the Financial Aid Office.
- Comply with all VUL standards, including the payment of all tuition and fees

Student Accounts Refunds

It is the policy of the University to issue refunds to students when a credit balance exists on the student's account, after all, known charges have been applied and when the student has applied for and received approval for the refund.

Refund Schedule

Prior to first day of Semester	100%
End of 1st week	90%
End of 2nd week	50%
End of 3rd week	40%
End of 4th week	25%
Thereafter	0%

Request for Refund

Students desiring a refund must complete an expense voucher, which is available in the Business Office any weekday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. EST.

The Business Office and/or the Coordinator of Financial Aid must approve all refunds for students receiving any form of financial aid. Once the refund is properly authorized, the voucher will be processed in 5-15 working days.

If a student is terminated or withdraws from the school, refunds are calculated based on the student's last date of attendance. If a refund is due to a student not receiving Title IV Financial Aid, the school will refund directly to the student. If a refund is due to Title IV funds, the school will return the unearned aid for which the school is responsible by repaying funds to the perspective sources, in order, up to the total net amount disbursed from each source (Refer to Priority Method).

Student Withdrawal

Complete Student Federal financial aid regulations governing withdrawals and refunds and examples may be found in the Financial Aid Office. Please see the Withdrawal section for more information about withdrawal requirements.

Review of Grades

A student who believes a final grade is in error should first discuss the matter with the instructor. If the student fails to “show cause,” to the instructor, the student may submit a written appeal, within three weeks after the grade notifications are provided by the Registrar’s Officer, to the dean of the school in which the course is listed in the catalogue. The Dean will notify the instructor and the student, in writing, of the decision. Other than the course instructor, only the Vice-President for Academic Affairs may change a grade.

STUDENT RIGHTS

1. All students, before entering this institution, are privy to information regarding their rights, obligations, and responsibilities, as well as, the rules and regulations of this college as prescribed in the official Student Manual.
2. Within the limits of its facilities, the University is open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards. The facilities and services of the University are open to all of its students.
3. Student performance in class will be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.
4. A student has the right to be protected against improper disclosure of personal information by the administration and faculty members.
5. A student’s permanent educational record includes a transcript of academic achievements separate from, and independent of, disciplinary or counseling files.
6. Students are free to organize and join associations to promote their common interests, subject to institutional and educational policies.
7. A student, as a citizen, has the right to participate in off campus activities without jeopardizing his or her standing with the University as long as he or she does not claim to represent the University and does not reflect negatively on the reputation of the University.

FAMILY EDUCATION RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACTS RELEASE OF INFORMATION ABOUT STUDENTS

FERPA protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), passed by Congress in 1974, requires educational institutions to provide students access to their educational records, to allow students to correct inaccurate or misleading information in these records, and to limit the release of information to third parties. The rights parents exercise with respect to their children's education records transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level.

Parental Access to Student Records

Parents may obtain directory information unless the student has placed an affirmative restriction on its release. Parents may obtain non-directory information by obtaining signed consent from their child. Records of student permission are maintained in the Office of the University Registrar. Parents may obtain non-directory information if the child is a legal dependent for tax purposes and files a FERPA Release Form with the registrar's office.

Student Rights

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) protects students with regard to their education records. Understand what your rights are.

Note: Information in a student's record obtained after January 1, 1975, will be available for student's review upon written request. Material in a student's folder that was obtained before January 1, 1975, will be held in confidence, and denied review by the students.

- 1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
- 2) The right to request a transcript upon request to the Registrar. The University may decline to provide a copy of such transcript in the event the student has failed to comply with his/her financial obligation to the University.
- 3) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the university to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write to the university official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the university decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

- 4) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

Virginia University of Lynchburg will disclose information from a student's education records only with the written consent of the student, except:

- (a) To school officials with legitimate educational interests (a school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position); a person or company with whom the university has contracted to perform required functions (such as an attorney, auditor, service provider, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an educational record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.
- (b) To officials of other institutions in which the student seeks or intends to enroll provided that the student had previously requested a release of his/her record;
- (c) To authorized representatives of the U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Defense (Solomon Amendment), U.S. Attorney General, INS, the Comptroller General of the United States, state education authorities, organizations conducting studies for or on behalf of the university, and accrediting organizations;
- (d) In connection with a student's application for, and receipt of, financial aid;
- (e) To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
- (f) To parents of dependent students as defined by the Internal Revenue Code, Section 152;
- (g) To appropriate parties in a health or safety emergency; or
- (h) To the alleged victim of any crime of violence or the results of any disciplinary proceedings conducted by the university.
- (i) The university may disclose the result of a disciplinary proceeding to a parent or guardian so long as the student is under the age of 21 at the time of the incident and the proceeding has resulted in a violation of university drug or alcohol policies, or any federal, state, or local law.
- (j) To students currently registered in a particular class, the names and email addresses of others on the roster may be disclosed in order to participate in class discussion.

5) Students will be notified of directory information the college plans to make available to the general public. Students must inform the University within fifteen (15) days of notification if any or all the directory information that should not be released.

Virginia University of Lynchburg has designated the following items as Directory Information: student's name, electronic mail address, local and permanent mailing addresses and telephone numbers, semesters of attendance, enrollment status (full- or part-time), date of admission, date of expected or actual graduation, school, major and minor fields of study, whether or not currently enrolled, classification (freshman, etc.), type of degree being pursued, degrees, honors, and awards received (including scholarships and fellowships), university identification card, weight and height of members of athletic teams, and whether the student has participated in officially recognized activities and sports sponsored by the university.

The university may disclose any of these items without prior written consent, unless the student has submitted a written request to the Office of the University Registrar not to release directory information pertaining to them. Requests will be processed within 24 hours after receipt.

6) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Virginia University of Lynchburg to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-8520

Release of Information About Students

1. A student may secure a transcript upon request to the Registrar. The University may decline to provide a copy of such transcript in the event the student has failed to comply with his/her financial obligation to the University.
2. A student may inspect his or her records upon request.
3. Information in a student's record obtained after January 1, 1975, will be available for student's review upon written request.
4. Material in a student's file that was obtained before January 1, 1975, will be held in confidence and denied review by the students.
5. A log (record) of persons other than University officials who review students' records will be kept by the custodian of records.
6. Only upon written authorization by the students will grades and/or other personally identifiable information relating to the student be released to institutions or agencies unless required by law.
7. A student shall have an opportunity for a hearing, in accordance with the regulations of the Secretary of Education, to challenge the content of his or her records and assure that the records are accurate and not in violation of the privacy acts or other rights of the student. This policy provides an opportunity for the correction or deletion of inaccurate, misleading, or inappropriate data contained therein.
8. Students will be notified of directory information the college plans to make available to the general public. Students must inform the University within fifteen (15) days of notification of any or all of the directory information that should not be released.
9. Until guidelines are released by the Department of Education or the appropriate federal agency, records will be kept indefinitely.

CODE OF CONDUCT STANDARDS AND REGULATIONS

Misconduct for which students are subject to disciplinary action includes, but is not limited to, the following enumerated violations:

1. Actions, oral statements, and written statements which threaten or violate the personal safety of any member of the faculty, staff, or other students.
2. Harassment that has the effect of creating a hostile or offensive educational environment for any student, faculty, or staff member.
3. Sex discrimination/sexual harassment that has the effect of creating a hostile or offensive educational environment for any student, faculty, or staff member. This includes, but is not limited to, sex discrimination, sexual harassment, unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal and nonverbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature including sexual violence.
4. Stalking or persistently pursuing another person that has the effect of imposing unwelcomed contact and/or communication.
5. Disruptive behavior that hinders or interferes with the educational process.
6. Violation of any applicable professional codes of ethics or conduct.
7. Failure to promptly comply with any reasonable directive from faculty or University officials.
8. Failure to cooperate in an University investigation.
9. Carrying of weapons on campus, at campus-sanctioned events, or when meeting with campus personnel. (This policy is not applicable to students who are law enforcement officers required by law to carry firearms at all times).
10. Using, dealing in, or being under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs while in class, at campus-sanctioned events, or when meeting with campus personnel.
11. Failure to maintain confidentiality and respect the privacy of personal or professional information communicated about clients, one's employer, other students or their employers.
12. Falsification, alteration or invention of information, including, but not limited to, any third party document used to apply for financial aid, or lying during a University investigation.
13. Violation of the Student Code of Academic Integrity.
14. Violation of the policy on Acceptable Use of University Computing and Communication Resources for Students and Faculty.
15. Hazing (any action which recklessly or intentionally endangers the mental health or physical health or safety of a student for the purpose of initiation or admission into or affiliation with any University-sanctioned organization).
16. Violation of University regulations and policies (in addition to those regulations and policies covered by items 1-15 above).
17. Violation of federal, state, or local laws or regulations

Procedure for Processing Alleged Violations of the Student Code of Conduct

Campus Code of Conduct - all violations unless related to student records or sex discrimination/sexual harassment.

- Alleged Violations are subject to a fair and impartial process and may result in warning or charge.
- Investigation - alleged violations will be investigated in a prompt, thorough, and impartial manner. The investigation will gather relevant evidence, including, but not limited to, pertinent documents and statements from witnesses.
- During an investigation, a student may be removed from class, campus-sanctioned events, and other University functions after review and consultation with the Office of Discipline and Student Conduct.

Students found responsible for the following behavior will receive a minimum sanction of dismissal.

Dismissal

Dismissal is involuntary separation from the institution without any guarantee of readmission. Consideration of readmission will not occur in less than one calendar year, with the burden of proof even then lying with the student. Students who are involuntarily separated from the University may not return to campus during the time the sanction is in effect without advance written permission from the Dean of Students.

1. Use of Weapons:

Using or threatening to use a weapon or any object as a weapon in any building or on any property owned or operated by the University, except as required for classroom instruction.

2. Distribution of Drugs:

Distributing an illegal drug or possessing an illegal drug with the intent to distribute as defined by the Drug Control Act of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

3. Sexual Misconduct (see section below):

- a. Forcing another person to participate in sexual activities against his/her will.
- b. Forcing another person to have sexual intercourse against his/her will.

Students found responsible for violating the following should receive a sanction of SUSPENSION or DISMISSAL.

Suspension is involuntary separation from the institution for a specified period of time, at the end of which the student is entitled to readmission, assuming no intervening misconduct has occurred. Students who are involuntarily separated from the institution may not return to campus during the time the sanction is in effect without advance written permission from the Dean. If the conduct of a student, prior to the date in which the sanction takes effect, is judged to be an immediate threat to himself/herself, to others, or to University operations or property, the student may be suspended for the remainder of the term, pending appeal.

4. Possession of Drugs:

Possession or using an illegal drug as defined by the Drug Control Act of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Possession is defined to include any area or property for which the student is responsible. The possession of alcohol or drinking alcohol on University property is also considered possession of or using drugs, as defined by the University.

5. Explosives:

Possessing or using explosives—including, but not limited to, ammunition, fireworks, firecrackers, etc.—in any building or on any property owned or operated by the University, except in instances where such possession is required for classroom instruction or the Dean has provided written permission.

6. Weapon Possession:

Possessing a weapon (including, but not limited to, firearms, air guns, slingshots, knives other than non-spring pocket knives, martial arts weapons, and bows and arrows) in any building or on any property owned or operated by the University, except as required for classroom instruction.

7. Student Violence:

Engaging in any form of physical violence directed toward another person or group of people, except when such response constitutes legitimate self-defense is a violation of University rules.

Students found responsible for violating the following should receive a sanction of DISCIPLINARY PROBATION, SUSPENSION OR DISMISSAL.

Disciplinary Probation is a strong, formal warning issued to the student in response to a serious violation of the University Rules and Regulations. Probation is for a stated period of time and is intended to foster increased self-discipline and respect for the standards of the University. Subsequent misconduct, especially during the probationary period, will result in a more stringent sanction.

8. Alcohol Policy Violations:

- a. Violating state law in regards to legal age for consumption, purchase, or possession of alcohol.
- b. Being drunk in public.
- c. Possessing an open container of alcohol in public.
- d. Serving alcohol to an under-aged or intoxicated drinker.
- e. Violating other aspects of the alcohol policy not noted elsewhere in the Conduct Standards and Regulations.
- f. Driving while impaired or under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

9. Property:

- a. Damaging property owned, operated or controlled by the University or one of its members (i.e., students, faculty, staff, or visitor).
- b. Vandalizing property owned, operated or controlled by the University or one of its members (i.e., student, faculty, staff, or visitor).
- c. Tampering with property owned, operated or controlled by the University or one of its members (i.e., student, faculty, staff, or visitor).

10. Attempted Violence/Abuse to Persons:

- a. Attempting or intending to engage in any form of violence directed toward another person or group of people, except when such response constitutes legitimate self-defense.
- b. Harassing or abusing (e.g., verbally, graphically, or electronically) any student, guest, faculty, or staff member of the University community.
- c. Violating any aspect of the Sexual Harassment Policy.

11. Drug Paraphernalia:

Possessing drug paraphernalia (including, but not limited to, “roach clips,” “bongs,” or any item or device associated or used in conjunction with illegal drug activity).

12. Obscene or Indecent Behavior:

Committing obscene or indecent acts.

13. Physical Well-Being:

Endangering another’s or one’s own physical well-being.

14. Trespassing:

Unauthorized presence on, in, or within any building or property owned or operated by the University.

JUDICIAL BOARD CONSTITUTION

Preamble

We the students of Virginia University of Lynchburg, to promote the welfare of the University community, establish the Virginia University of Lynchburg Judicial Board as our representative Judicial Body.

Article I: Purpose.

The Judicial Board members are to be appointed by the President, Vice-President for Academic Affairs and Director for Student Affairs and Deans and shall serve to foster and promote appropriate behavior in the conduct of the student body.

Article II: Powers.

The Judicial Board shall have the power to:

- A. Hear Complaints of student misconduct as specified in the Conduct Standards and Regulations and to determine, utilizing the guidelines of parliamentary procedure and due process, whether the accused is in violation of the Conduct Standards and Regulations.
- B. Determine the sanction it deems appropriate, should the accused be found responsible for the alleged violation(s). A list of the minimum sanctions can be found in the Conduct Standards and Regulations section of the Student Manual.
- C. Create and implement any policies, programs, or bylaws vital to the operation of the Judicial System.
- D. Remove any members from the Board for behaving in any manner that is considered inappropriate for a Board member.
- E. Hear cases involving Virginia University of Lynchburg’s Judicial Board members accused of violating the Conduct Standards and Regulations.

Article III: Membership. Section 1:

Membership of the Virginia University of Lynchburg Judicial Board shall consist of five members, one each from each class and one from the Graduate School.

Section 2:

The members must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0 and cannot be on disciplinary or academic probation at the time of their elections or during their terms.

Section 3:

Members of the Judicial Board shall be fair, honest, non-biased, and truly dedicated to the endeavors of the University Judicial System. Members are expected to hold the system in the highest regard and conduct themselves accordingly.

Article IV: Members and Officers. Section 1:

The members of the Judicial Board shall be appointed by the President, Vice President for Academic Affairs, and Dean.

Section 2:

One (1) Chair and one (1) Vice-Chair shall be elected from within the Judicial Board. A Secretary shall also be elected by the Judicial Board members. Each officer shall have served one (1) full year on the Board prior to his or her election, and shall have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.3 (except in the case of the first year of the Judicial Board's organization).

Section 3:

Length of term will be one calendar year for all members and officers. The members and officers may be reappointed/elected to the Board for no more than two additional terms.

Article V: Responsibilities of the Officers. Section 1:

The duties of the Chair and Vice-Chair shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

- A. Presiding over all Judicial Board meetings.
- B. Acting as a representative of the Judicial Board to the Administration.
- C. Working in conjunction with the secretary on record-keeping system, and also working with the Vice-President for Student Affairs/or Academic Affairs.
- D. Conducting the election of officers.

Section 2:

The duties of the Secretary shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

- A. Keeping accurate records.
 - 1. Taking the attendance of Board members and deciding absentee status.
 - 2. Making sure all necessary case documents are properly completed prior to and after the case.
- B. Maintaining Judicial Board files.

THE HONOR CODE

I, _____, having a clear understanding of the basis and spirit of the Honor Code created and accepted by the Virginia University of Lynchburg, pledge myself to govern my college life according to its standards and to accept my responsibility for helping others to do so, and to live by the Honor Code at all times and endeavor to help others do likewise.

Pledge of Honor

I have neither given nor received help on this work, nor am I aware of any infraction of the Honor Code.

Honor Code Conduct Standards and Regulations

Part I. Cheating

Section 1. Academic Cheating:

- A. Intentionally giving or receiving help on written assignments, examinations, or on any work without prior permission of the instructor.
- B. Looking at another's test paper or other material with intent to gain and give unfair academic advantage without permission of the instructor.
- C. Any other inappropriate behavior related to stealing information or aiding another student with information.

Section 2. Plagiarism:

- A. Handing in as one's own a paper or assignment purchased from a term paper service or any other source.
- B. Copying another's paper or work and handing it in as one's own.
- C. Taking a paper or work from a file not one's own and handing it in as one's own.
- D. Appropriating passages or ideas from another and using them as one's own without proper documentation.
- E. Handing in as one's own a paper or work that is not truly the work of the student.

Part II. Stealing

Section 1. Property:

- A. Stealing or attempting to steal personal, University, or other property.
- B. Using personal, University, and other property without authorization.
- C. Possessing property that is known to be stolen.
- D. Any other student behavior that removes property from others that is not authorized.

Part III. Lying

Section 1. Falsifying Information:

- A. Giving false information to any student, staff member, faculty member, or administrator with the intent to lie, deceive, or conceal.
- B. Falsifying information or falsifying official records (e.g., admission records, grades, computer information, registration materials, or office records) in any manner.
- C. Violating the Pledge of Honor by giving or receiving help on work or by not reporting Honor Code-related information to University officials or the Honor Board.

Sanctions as Applied by Honor Board

Hearings Dismissal

Dismissal is the involuntary separation from the institution without any guarantee of readmission. Consideration of readmission will not occur in less than one calendar year, with the burden of proof even then lying with the student. Students who are involuntarily separated from the University may not return to campus during the time that sanction is in effect without advance written permission of the Dean.

Suspension

Suspension is the involuntary separation from the institution for a specified period of time, at the end of which the student is entitled to readmission, assuming no intervening misconduct has occurred. Students who have involuntarily separated from the institution may not return to campus during the time the sanction is in effect without advance written permission from the Dean.

Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary Probation is a strong, formal warning issued to the student in response to a serious violation of the Code of Conduct Standards and Regulations. Probation is for a stated period of time and is intended to foster increased self-discipline and respect for the standards of the University. Subsequent misconduct, especially during the probationary period, will result in a more stringent sanction.

Admonition

Admonition is a written notice that a student has violated campus regulations and that future misconduct of any nature will be dealt with more stringently.

Restitution

A student or group may be required to make payments to the University or to other persons, groups, or organizations, for damages incurred as a result of misconduct.

The Virginia University of Lynchburg Judicial Board will have authority to preside over and administer discipline relating to violations of the University's Rules and Regulations and Honor Code. Procedures

A. Filing of Disciplinary Charges and Notification of Hearing:

1. Any person alleging that a student has violated a University policy, standard, or Honor Code regulation may file a complaint by completing a "Form to File Judicial/Honor Charges." These forms are available from the Deans' offices.

2. The University will not, in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, allow a complaint to go forward where the incident or incidents complained about occurred more than 30 working days prior to the date of the filing of the complaint.
3. The respondent will be contacted and given all required due process.
4. Strict rules of evidence and procedure will not be applicable at disciplinary hearings.
5. A disciplinary hearing generally will proceed in the following manner (student Judicial/Honor Board):
6. The Board Officer (Chair) is introduced.
7. Participants state any questions they have concerning rights or procedures.
8. The statement of charges is presented.
9. The respondent enters a plea of Responsible, Not Responsible, or No Plea.
10. Evidence is presented. The Board Chair coordinates a dialogue between the respondent, complainant, any witnesses, and Board members, allowing all parties to raise their questions in the interest of having them answered and to attain clarity in all testimony.
11. The respondent has the opportunity to present up to three (3) character witnesses and/or not more than five (5) letters of support.
12. The complainant and/or witnesses may present concluding remarks.
13. The respondent may present concluding remarks.
14. All persons are excused from the hearing room except the Board members so that the Board may deliberate.
15. The Board considers information introduced in the hearing and deliberates in executive session until a decision of Responsible or Not Responsible is made. The decision is based on a preponderance standard of proof and decided by a simple majority vote of the Board. The complainant bears the burden of proof and meets the threshold necessary when a preponderance of the facts, testimony, and other information presented demonstrates that the respondent is responsible for the offense as charged.
 - a. The disciplinary cases are part of the official educational record of the student and are therefore confidential and private.

B. Rights of Students Regarding Hearings

1. The Board may apply no disciplinary sanctions to a student without due process.
2. A student is presumed Not Responsible until proven Responsible.
3. The burden of proof shall rest on the complainant.
4. The student has a right to a timely hearing.
5. The respondent shall have access to an official record of the charges for the purpose of preparing a defense.
6. The respondent shall receive notification of the charges, the policy violated, and the time, date, and place of the hearing.
7. The complainant and the respondent are allowed one advisor each, provided those persons are willing to assist the students.
8. An attorney may represent the student if the Dean is notified within 48 hours of the hearing. The attorney may be present at the hearing for the purpose of advising the student but may not examine the witness or make statements during the hearing.

9. The respondent shall receive notification in writing of the decision within ten (10) working days of the hearing.
10. If the respondent desires to appeal the ruling, he/she must submit his/her request in writing to the Vice-President for Academic Affairs within five (5) working days of receiving the written notification of action of the Board.
11. The Vice-President will determine if (1) due process was violated; additional information has become available on behalf of the respondent that was not available at the time of the hearing; and/or (3) the sanction was disproportionate to the violation, hence being too harsh.
12. The decision of the Vice-President is final. No appeals may be submitted beyond this final level.

The student agrees to abide by the rules and regulations of the Virginia University of Lynchburg when admitted to the University. The actions of the Judicial Board and, if applicable, the Appeal Officer are final in the University process. The student may contact State Council of Higher Education for Virginia staff to file a complaint as a last resort. The institution will not subject a student to unfair actions as a result of the student initiating a complaint.

STUDENT GRIEVANCE PROCESS: ACADEMIC ISSUES

It is the policy at Virginia University of Lynchburg to protect the rights and freedoms of students. The following procedures have been established to provide for an orderly, fair, and prompt resolution of student grievances concerning academic issues. These procedures are established to insure the due process, equitable treatment, and protection of all parties involved in the process. No adverse action shall be taken in response to an individual who registers an academic grievance.

Academic grievance, as used here, shall mean a complaint by a student of Virginia University of Lynchburg against a representative of the University when s/he perceives that s/he has suffered adverse academic consequences from an alleged violation, misinterpretation, inequitable application, misrepresentation, or inappropriate implementation of the academic regulations and procedures of the University.

In keeping with the intent and spirit of these procedures, it is incumbent upon all parties to show respect, restraint, and responsibility in their efforts to resolve the grievance. It is incumbent on students proceeding with a grievance to provide evidence of a violation. It is incumbent upon representatives of the University to arrange meetings and conferences concerning the matter in good faith and promptly to communicate decisions to the student promptly.

This procedure is in no way intended to supplant or duplicate other grievance procedures available either to the student or the University representative(s) named in the grievance or to prevent such individuals from pursuing other remedies as are provided by law.

Academic Grievance Procedures

When a student believes s/he can demonstrate s/he has been harmed by a violation, misinterpretation, inequitable application, misrepresentation, or inappropriate implementation of the academic regulations and procedures of the University, the following grievance procedure shall be followed. The failure of any University personnel at any level to communicate a decision to the aggrieved student within the stated time limits shall permit the student to proceed to the next step of the process. The failure of the student to appeal the grievance to the next step within the stated time limits shall constitute a withdrawal of the grievance and shall bar further action.

I. Initial Informal Procedures

The student shall initiate the informal procedures within ten University working days after the student first perceives the alleged violation on which the complaint is based. The informal procedures outlined below will be initiated prior to a formal grievance being filed.

1. Whenever possible, the student shall meet with the University representative whose actions are the object of the complaint to discuss the issue and attempt to resolve it satisfactorily.
2. If the complaint has not been resolved in conference with the University representative, or if the student cannot meet with the University representative, the student will discuss the complaint with the University representative's immediate supervisor, who will attempt to help the student resolve the complaint. In the interest of resolving the complaint, when the student discusses the complaint with the immediate supervisor, the immediate supervisor shall confer with the University representative.
3. If the student does not feel the problem has been resolved within ten University working days after the conference with the University representative's supervisor, the student may initiate the formal academic complaint procedure.

II. Formal Procedures

1. Within thirty University working days after the student first perceives the alleged violation on which the complaint is based, the student will file an Academic Grievance Form in the Office of Academic Affairs (Available in the Office of Academic Affairs). Thereafter, the complaint shall be referred to as a grievance. The form will be completed and returned to the Office of Academic Affairs.
2. Within two University working days of receipt by the Office of Academic Affairs of the grievance, the Office of Academic Affairs will send written notification to the student who has initiated the process acknowledging receipt of the formal grievance. At the same time, the Office of Academic Affairs will also send written notification to the University representative named in the grievance indicating that a formal grievance process has been initiated. A copy of the formal grievance will be attached. (To protect the rights and privacy of other individuals who may be identified by the student complainant, but who may or may not choose to participate in the grievance process, the Office of Academic Affairs will retain the right to expunge the names of such other individuals from the complaint.)

3. Within five University working days of receipt by the Office of Academic Affairs of the written grievance, the Office of Academic Affairs will inform the Academic Grievance Committee about the grievance and appoint a Chair. (For reasonable cause, the Office of Academic Affairs may extend this time requirement.) A copy of the grievance or redacted grievance, as the case may be, shall be provided to the Chair. The Academic Grievance Committee shall be composed of Administrators, Deans, Faculty, Student Government President and Vice President unless any of these individuals have participated in the informal process, in which case s/he will not be a member of the committee.
4. Committee meeting(s) of the Academic Grievance Committee will be completed within twenty University working days of receipt of the written grievance. (For reasonable cause, this time requirement may be extended by the Office of Academic Affairs.) The Office of Academic Affairs will be responsible for making copies of the formal academic grievance, sending them to members of the Academic Grievance Committee, and scheduling the committee meeting(s).
 - a. During the meeting(s), the Academic Grievance Committee may interview the student, the individual against whom the grievance is directed, and/or Request additional material they feel is necessary for a fair and complete consideration of the issue.
 - b. At all stages and at their own expense, the student and the individual to whom the grievance is directed may have one person with them during the process. Nevertheless, the student and the University representative named in the grievance shall serve as their own spokespersons. The role of their accompanying representatives, if any, shall be to advise the student or the University representative, and they will not be permitted to speak or to participate directly in any other way unless invited to do so by the Chair of the Committee.
 - c. Both the student and the University representative named in the grievance may request that the testimony of witnesses be heard. Requests for such witnesses must be made in writing in advance of any hearing scheduled by the Academic Grievance Committee and must be submitted to the Office of Academic Affairs no later than five University working days following the date of written notification by the Office of Academic Affairs to the student and the University representative against whom the grievance is directed acknowledging the initiation of a formal grievance procedure.
 - d. Requests for witnesses must include the complete name of all witnesses, a description of the relationship of the witness to the individual making the request, and a summary of the expected testimony each witness will provide. The Academic Grievance Committee will retain the right to limit the number of witnesses.

- e. In the event that either a witness or the University representative, who is the subject of the grievance, does not appear at the meeting(s) called by the Academic Grievance Committee, or will not provide information or documents as requested, the recommendation of the Committee will be made on the basis of the information available to them.
- f. When voting on an Academic Grievance, only committee members may be present. All members of the Academic Grievance Committee will participate in the vote. The Academic Grievance Committee may decide to:
 - g. Accept the arguments of the grievance, in which case they will recommend in writing to the Office of Academic Affairs an appropriate action to be taken concerning the grievance. Such recommended actions may include, but will not be limited to, reinstatement after dismissal from the University, change of grade, approval of a waiver, retaking a test.
 - h. Not accept the arguments of the grievance, which they will so recommend in writing to the Office of Academic Affairs.
 - i. As noted above, the Academic Grievance Committee will have completed its meetings within twenty University working days of receipt of the written grievance. The Chairperson of the Academic Grievance Committee will submit to the Office of Academic Affairs a written recommendation concerning the appropriate disposition of the grievance, as well as all supporting materials.

5. Within ten University working days of receipt of the recommendation from the Academic Grievance Committee, the Office of Academic Affairs will review the materials submitted, file a final decision, and provide written notification to both the student and the individual against whom the grievance is directed as to the disposition of the grievance. Normally, the Office of Academic Affairs will accept the findings and recommendations of the Academic Grievance Committee and (s)he will take the action appropriate to redress any demonstrated harm to the student. However, the Office of Academic Affairs will retain the right to undertake a further review of the grievance, to also interview the student, the individual named in the grievance, and/or request additional material (s)he feels is necessary to a complete consideration of the issue. If the decision of the Office of Academic Affairs differs from the findings and recommendations of the Academic Grievance Committee, (s)he will meet with the Committee in order to provide an explanation of the decision. The decision of the Academic Affairs Office is final.

If the Office of Academic Affairs is directly involved in any way in the informal stage of the grievance, the President or the President's designee will assume the responsibilities assigned to the Office of Academic Affairs at every stage in the formal process.

6. The Office of Academic Affairs will be responsible for recording and filing the decision. All materials connected with the grievance will be held in confidence in the Office of Academic Affairs, and shall not be utilized in proceedings concerning discipline, promotion, tenure, or appointments unless otherwise provided by law.

Student Grievance/Complaint Policy Purpose

The purpose of the Student Grievance/Complaint Policy is to provide equitable and orderly processes to resolve grievances by students. This procedure applies to all student issues, including but not limited to academic issues, student services, or administrative concerns. Any student may file a grievance under this policy. The grievance can arise from any official faculty or staff action or decision deemed to be unjust or discriminatory by the student and is based upon violation of an institutional policy or written standard that protects every student. The goal of this process is to insure fair and equitable treatment of all students, to hold administrators, faculty and staff accountable for compliance with institutional policies and procedures. Resolution of student complaints, regardless of the outcome, also can improve a student's progress toward completion of a course or degree and ultimately success at the institution.

Definition

- A. A grievable action is an action that:
1. Is in violation of written campus policies or procedures, or
 2. Constitutes misapplication or misinterpretation of University policies, regulations, rules, or procedures. Grievances may not be used to challenge policies or procedures of general applicability.
- B. Complaints between students, disciplinary decisions administered by the Office of Student Conduct, and decisions made by persons not employed by VUL are not grievable under these procedures.
- C. Tables are presented below to help determine what is grievable and what is not grievable action is provided below:

Table I: Grievable Issues

ISSUE	ACTION

A grievance differs from an appeal of an academic decision, as it deals with service issues and not the actual outcomes of course work. A student may file a grievance in the cases of an unresolved difference or dispute between themselves and the university (office or individual) related to services rendered or non-academic decisions. The policy covers matters outside the scope of other policies of the university.

Complaints about sexual harassment and discrimination based upon protected class are addressed via the Discrimination Complaint Procedure; complaints about services related to disabilities are addressed through Rights of Students with Disabilities Policy, complaints about student behavior are addressed through the Student Conduct Policy and Procedures and student academic appeals including grading are addressed through Student Academic Appeals Policy and Procedures.

In cases where service issues underlie a disagreement about an academic evaluation, the service issue will be investigated and decided first.

If students are unable to resolve a complaint through the institution's grievance procedures, they may contact Virginia University of Lynchburg's accrediting body at: Transnational Association of Christian Colleges and Schools (TRACS) 15935 Forest Road, Forest, Virginia 24551, 434-525-9539, info@tracs.org

State Contact Information

Pursuant to the United States Department of Education's Program Integrity Rule, each institution of higher education is required to provide all prospective and current students with the contact information of the state agency or agencies that handle complaints against postsecondary education institutions offering distance learning within that state. Students are encouraged to use Virginia University of Lynchburg's internal complaint policies and procedures prior to filing a complaint with a state agency.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

Virginia University of Lynchburg offers several programs for students, including the Certificate, Associate Degree, and Bachelor's degree. Students may select a program according to their academic preparation, interests, abilities, and achievement goals.

MISSION AND PURPOSE OF UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

Consistent with the mission of the University to recognize the possibilities in every human being and to maximize the gifts of the individual within the context of a thoroughly Christian and nurturing environment, the University seeks to fulfill its mission by bringing students who possess a wide range of backgrounds, interests, and abilities together to build and participate in a community that values each student as an individual.

The primary concern of the University is to provide quality teaching and enlightened guidance to students in order that they will acquire the knowledge, skill, and attitudes for enriching their own lives and the lives of those in the communities in which they serve. To this end, the University encourages scholarly inquiry, research, and academic freedom in the search for truth.

The specific mission of the undergraduate education program at the University is to provide the academic and spiritual foundations by which students can be nurtured and qualify for entrance into professional ministry as well as to pursue graduate study. The University also assists students to become productive adults and leaders in their local communities.

GOALS

The primary goal of undergraduate education is to prepare the student for post-graduate pursuits. A second goal is to assure that students who seek employment after graduation will have developed the necessary skills, knowledge, and competencies to compete in both the public and private sectors. The University expects its graduates to demonstrate a mastery of those skills that are a requisite for post-graduate education and workplace performance, including mastery of content, communication, research methods, and intellectual acumen.

Undergraduate Admissions

General Admission to the University

Persons who respond to the challenge of a creative, dedicated life and who are ready to assume significant responsibilities in the shaping of their academic careers are prepared to begin studies at Virginia University of Lynchburg.

The University seeks to enroll students who will benefit from academic and character training and who are willing to contribute to the development of a democratic society without regard to race, creed, color or national origin. Students must be willing and able to assume responsibility for personal conduct and have a sense of concern for others.

Students from various achievement levels, as indicated by their official school transcripts, are encouraged to apply for admission to VUL. The Admissions Committee will consider a combination of factors and characteristics in deciding whether an applicant will be granted admission. Admission may be granted to individuals who have a high school diploma or the equivalent (GED) and may benefit from any of the programs of study offered by the University.

Students in Virginia cannot earn their GED unless they are beyond the compulsory attendance age. Students who seek college admission from other states with GED certificates must be beyond the age of compulsory high school attendance in the state in which their schools are located.

Admission to the University may be denied if the admissions committee feels that matriculation would not be in the best interest of the student and/or the University.

Undergraduate Admissions Requirements

- High School GPA of 2.0 or 530 GED score
- Transfer students must have a GPA of 2.0
- Character and personality traits
- The physical and emotional health of the student
- Academic performance in high school and/or other colleges
- See the program of study for any specific additional admission requirements.

Conditional Admissions

Students who have a GPA less than 2.0 or a GED score below 530 will be recommended to the Admissions Committee for final admissions approval under Conditional Admissions. Any applicant who qualifies as a conditionally admitted student (GPA is less than 2.0 or GED below 530) must meet the following criteria:

- The conditionally admitted student will be permitted to carry a maximum course load of 12 semester hours until 24 credit hours are attempted.

- The student will follow a prescribed course of study designed to strengthen basic skills.
- Specific courses must be taken where weaknesses have been demonstrated. (QC Math, QC English and QC Vocabulary Building).
- Conditionally admitted students will be granted unconditional admission status within, or upon completion of, 24 semester credit hours at Virginia University of Lynchburg with an overall 2.0 GPA.
- Any conditional student who fails to attain a 2.0 GPA upon completion of 24 credit hours attempted at Virginia University of Lynchburg will be dropped from the program.

Students at Virginia University of Lynchburg are encouraged to develop themselves to their fullest potential. In keeping with the philosophy of the University, the Admissions Committee gives due regards to the following:

- Character and personality traits;
- The physical and emotional health of the student;
- Academic performance in high school or other colleges

All Applicants for Admission are required to:

- File the appropriate admission application;
- Submit the non-refundable application fee;
- Have official high school and/or college transcripts forwarded to the Admissions Office;
- Schedule a conference with the Registrar or Dean to outline a program of study

Foreign students must submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) to be classified as a foreign student. The Educational Testing Service, in Princeton, New Jersey, offers this test and it is administered in several locations in Virginia during the year. Admission to the University cannot be granted until satisfactory results of the test are forwarded to the Admissions Office.

Students who are transferring from another higher educational institution should refer to the Student Transfers policy in this catalog.

Application Process

- Submit the Online Application or download a Printable copy of our application.
- Pay the non-refundable application fee.
- Have official high school and/or college transcripts forwarded to the Admissions Office.
- Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA Form), if financial assistance is needed.
- Provide official, government-issued photo identification card.
- Submit the following documents:

 - Housing Application

- 2020 Testing Platform Guide
- 2020 Placement and Tests

Undergraduate Graduation Requirements

Completion of the curriculum, plan of study, and other requirements in the prescribed program of study as detailed for the specific program must be satisfactorily completed to graduate. Degree candidates are required to be in good academic standing as defined by the program and elsewhere in the catalog and satisfy all financial obligations.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation in the program.

In addition to the academic requirements for graduation, students must receive the endorsement of the faculty responsible for the degree program in which they are enrolled. Students must demonstrate that they have acted responsibly in attempting to live in accord with standards of wholesome Christian character and with general standards of the institution.

Students anticipating graduation must complete the Degree Conferral form. This should be done at the time of advising appointment to register for the semester before the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester prior to the semester of the intended graduation.

In order to qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed, and all requirements met by the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by the end of the spring term. If a student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following year.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Certificate in Ministry

Requirements for graduation: 30 semester hours of study minimum; and 33 semester hours maximum hours.

The Certificate in Ministry is a one-year program of study, in cooperation with the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, designed to improve the level of competency in ministry for ministers and lay persons who have not met college entrance requirements. DEGREE PROGRAMS

The academic program of study at Virginia University of Lynchburg consists of three elements: General education consisting of sixty-two (62) semester hours in the liberal arts and sciences; a major field of study comprising one-third to one-half of the program; and electives completing the remainder of the course of study.

One of the principal goals of liberal arts education is to prepare students for fulfilling lives. To achieve this goal, Virginia University of Lynchburg requires that every student, regardless of major, must satisfy General Education requirements. In addition, to earn a baccalaureate degree from Virginia University of Lynchburg, a student must:

1. Complete the requirements for a major program as outlined in the catalog.
2. Complete a minimum of 120 semester hours of study (maximum of 132).
3. Earn a 2.00 minimum GPA on all college work.
4. Earn a GPA average of at least 2.00 on all courses which apply to the major.
5. Earn at least 30% of the credit hours required for the degree from VUL.
6. Complete all Virginia University of Lynchburg General Education requirements.
7. Comply with all University standards, regulations, and procedures from the date of enrollment through the date of graduation.

Student Academic Load

A student's academic load is normally fifteen or sixteen credit hours per semester. Students carrying fewer than twelve (12) credit hours of work during a semester will not be classified as full-time students. A student may not take more than eighteen (18) hours of work during a semester without special permission.

G. W. HAYES SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Associate Degree in Arts and Sciences

Requirements for graduation: 63 semester hours of study (minimum); 65 hours (maximum). Major: Liberal Arts Requirement: Four Semesters (2yrs)

Purpose: The Associate of Arts and Science Degree is designed for individuals who plan to enter or transfer into a four-year college to complete a baccalaureate degree program, generally a Bachelor of Arts (B.A. degree). The Bachelor of Arts Program provides instruction for those persons seeking careers in law, education, journalism, ministry, and other fields. The curriculum consists of courses in the humanities, foreign language, biology, and social sciences. Upon satisfactory completion of the two-year program, the graduate will be awarded the Associate in Arts and Sciences Degree in Liberal Arts.

It serves as an introduction to the inner workings of the body and provides a wealth of information about the body structures and functions that will be relevant to the student's future.

Competencies

1. This course introduces students to an overview of anatomy and physiology, the language of anatomy, basic chemistry, cells, and tissues.
2. The body systems covered are integumentary, skeletal, muscular, and the central nervous system as well as special senses.

- Included in this course are prefixes, suffixes, and combining forms.

COM 230 Public Speaking (3 credit hours). An introductory course that focuses upon effective and responsible speaking. The student will learn how to write and deliver formal speeches.

Competencies

- Demonstrate the various types, purposes, and structures of oral presentations.
- Use various types of support aids/tools used to support oral presentations, i.e., illustrations, statistics, visual technology support.
- Critique relationships among purpose, audience, and content of presentation.

ECON 207 Principles of Economics (3 credit hours). This course is an introduction to the principles of economics including both macroeconomics and microeconomics. (Cross-Listed With ECON 200).

Competencies:

- Detail overview of basic economics principles.
- Know definitions of economics, macroeconomics, microeconomics.
- Develop graphs, charts to show various economic activities.
- Understand unemployment relative to overall economic activity.
- Define the roles of industries, firms, and consumers.
- Demonstrate knowledge of government spending and taxation.

ECON 200 Survey of Economics (3 credit hours). A study of the American economy as compared with other economic systems. Primary areas of emphasis include budgets, consumer credit, business influence on consumers, tips on better buying, insurance, investments, and aids for consumers (Cross-Listed with ECON 207).

Competencies

- Know definitions of economics, macroeconomics, microeconomics.
- Develop graphs, charts to show various economic activities.
- Understand unemployment.
- Define the roles of industries, firms, and consumers.
- Demonstrate knowledge of government spending and taxation.

EDUC 100 Learning Plus (1 credit hour). This is a mandatory interactive self-paced computerized instructional laboratory program designed to assist students to improve their reading, writing, mathematical skills, critical skills, and test-taking skills.

Competencies:

- Taking responsibility.
- Demonstrating a sense of quality.
- Working in teams.
- Processing of information.
- Problem solving.
- Persisting.
- Adapting to change.
- Life-long learning.

EDUC 208 Curriculum Development (3 credit hours). A study of appropriate curriculum and methods for teaching students. The course includes classroom management, planning, selecting materials and evaluating learning.

Competencies:

1. Understand and analyze the American collegiate from various historical and philosophical perspectives. Develop skills to formulate, implement, and evaluate curricular patterns and strategies.
2. Understand the current curricular models and the contemporary curricular issues facing American undergraduate education. Develop an understanding of the processes and implications of curricular change.
3. Develop an understanding of curriculum development and design.

ENGL 162 English Composition I (3 credit hours). Emphasis on functional grammar, paragraph development, vocabulary building, and enrichment reading. The student will demonstrate an understanding and practical knowledge of these principles by applying them successfully in various written projects.

Competencies:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the writing process and various writing strategies.
2. Apply the study of rhetoric and grammar to the context of academic writing.
3. Use writing for purposes such as summary, analysis, synthesis, and description.

5. Write an acceptable paper in history.

HIST 232 World Geography (3 credit hours). An examination of geographic factors which influence cultural and economic diversity.

Competencies:

1. Identify the major regions of the world.
2. Interpret the unique qualities of the major regions of the world.
3. Analyze the relationship between the world's major regions.
4. Critique the interactions of the regions and nations.
5. Integrate geographic concepts with geographic data about specific regions and countries.

MATH 162 Math for Liberal Arts I (3 credit hours). A review of Algebra and an introduction to logic, probability, and statistics. The student will demonstrate a practical understanding and application of mathematical principles.

Competencies

1. Use several methods, such as algebraic, geometric and statistical reasoning to solve problems.
2. Interpret and draw inferences from mathematical models such as formulas, graphs, and tables.
3. Generalize from specific patterns and phenomena to more abstract principles and to proceed from abstract principles to specific applications.
4. Represent mathematical information symbolically, graphically, numerically and verbally.
5. Estimate and verify answers to mathematical problems to determine reasonableness, compare alternatives, and select optimal results.

MATH 163 Math for Liberal Arts II (3 credit hours). An intermediate study of Algebra, logic, probability, and statistics. The student will demonstrate a deeper understanding and application of the mathematical principles.

Competencies:

1. Introduce inductive reasoning and help develop problem solving strategies;
2. Review elementary set theory and expose the student to elementary logic;
3. Examine and compare different numeration systems;
4. Analyze the different subsets of real numbers (natural numbers, whole numbers, integers, etc.);
5. Promote an understanding of elementary statistics and probability;
6. Review the basics of plane geometry along with some solid geometry;
7. Develop and understanding of constructions, congruence, and similarity.
8. Cover the basic concepts of measurements and introduce coordinate geometry.

MUSC 130 Music Appreciation (3 credit hours). Recognition and appreciation of musical elements of rhythm, melody, and harmony, with emphasis on perceptive listening.

Competencies:

1. To provide culturally enriched opportunities for appreciation and participation in music.
2. To explore the historical and philosophical perspectives of music.
3. To recognize various artists and musicians and their contributions to their respective fields.

PHIL 200 Introduction to Philosophy (3 credit hours). A study of the methods and nature of philosophical inquiry, the problems with which this inquiry is concerned, and various principal solutions which have been offered to these problems.

Competencies:

1. Students will be familiar with the major areas of philosophy.
2. Students will be familiar with the history of philosophy.
3. Students will understand and be able to discuss the inherent problems of philosophy.
4. Students will identify some of the major philosophers of modern times.

PSYC 230 General Psychology (3 credit hours). A survey of psychology as a scientific discipline. Emphasis is on the basic psychological processes and methods used in their study.

Competencies:

1. Demonstrate ability to apply knowledge of psychological principles to enhance understanding of one's self and others.
2. Utilize new learning to increase personal and social intelligence that may lead to a happier, more effective and fulfilling life.
3. Gain information and knowledge of basic concepts and understandings of the field of psychology.

SOCI 112 Introduction to Sociology (3 credit hours). Analysis of some of the basic theories and methods used by social scientists. The course includes such areas as socialization, culture, social organization, social differentiation, institutions, and social changes.

Competencies:

1. Identify and critique distinct theories of society and social structure.
2. Understand and critique distinct beliefs and value frameworks in our society.
3. Understand the use and abuse of the empirical tradition in making inferences about society.

SPAN 119 Introduction to Spanish I (3 credit hours). Introductory language course designed to teach the fundamentals of reading, writing, listening, and speaking the Spanish language. It is appropriate for those students who have little or no previous experience with Spanish.

Competencies:

1. Read authentic material from the Spanish speaking world such as newspapers, magazine articles, classified advertisements, and reading material specifically created for beginning-level students.
2. Write short compositions that narrate events and describe people and places in the present tense.
3. Communicate with others in Spanish about yourself, your life, and other present tense events.
4. Understand Spanish at a slower than normal rate and understand some Spanish spoken by native speakers.
5. Gain an understanding of the customs particular to the Hispanic culture.

SPAN 120 Introduction to Spanish II (3 credit hours). Spanish 120 is a continuation of Spanish 119. Students will review grammar with emphasis on gaining a thorough understanding of the subjunctive mood. Students will continue the study of Hispanic history and culture.

Competencies:

1. Read authentic material from the Spanish-speaking world such as newspapers, magazine articles, and write compositions that narrate events and describe people using simple and compound tenses in the present, past, future, conditional, and subjunctive tenses.

3. Avoid/correct ambiguous and weak references.
4. Avoid/correct the faulty placement of modifiers.
5. Avoid redundancies and wordiness.
6. Make use of parallel construction and other stylistic devices.

Q.C. 097 Fundamentals of Math (1 credit hour). A review course in the fundamentals of mathematics required of entering college students who do not make satisfactory scores on the placement tests.

Competencies:

1. Understanding natural numbers and whole numbers.
2. Recognizing the importance of place-value in whole numbers.
3. Rounding whole numbers to the desired degree of accuracy.
4. Demonstrating competence in addition, subtraction, and factoring algebraic expressions.

Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies

Major: Religious Studies

Requirements: 123-minimum semester credit hours; 126 maximum semester credit hours

Purpose: The Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies degree is designed to prepare students for church-related vocations. Students are required to complete the core curriculum of the Associate of Arts Program before they can proceed in the Religious Studies Major.

Competencies:

1. Describe the literary/culture form of Acts and its significance for understanding the book.
2. Demonstrate the literary and theological relationship between Acts and the Gospel of Luke.
3. Describe the probable purposes of Acts.
4. Describe at least eight major classical and contemporary works on the book of Acts.

BIB 406 Wisdom Literature (3 credit hours). An in-depth study of the Songs of Solomon and the Book of Proverbs.

Competencies:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of origins and historical development.
2. Analyze and interpret the Biblical text.
3. Demonstrate knowledge of central ethical teachings and perspective characteristics of Christianity.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the intersections between religion and various contemporary issues.

CE 301 Methods of Teaching the Bible (3 credit hours). A course to help the students plan and review diversified methods of teaching the Bible; to explore the purpose of teaching in the Church, and to examine strategies for teaching various age levels.

Competencies:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of new methodology by incorporating methods not used previously in teaching ministry.
2. Identify advantages and disadvantages of various teaching methods and how these can be used to meet lesson objectives.
3. Demonstrate methods and strategies by teaching a lesson and doing a self-critique of that lesson.
4. Reflect on teaching strategies and redemptive elements used in teaching.

CE 309 Christian Education (3 credit hours). A study of the foundation and approaches for developing Christian education through adulthood.

Competencies:

1. Define the mission and functions of the local church.
2. Formulate a Biblical basis for the teaching ministry of the church.
3. Understand the integration of educational ministries with the Biblical mission of the church and a local church's mission statement.
4. Identify, understand, and evaluate the educational programs of the church.
5. Demonstrate skills for organizing a church for educational ministries including Sunday School/Bible study, small group ministries, outreach, new member orientation, care groups, leadership development, teacher training, ministry teams, and discipleship.
6. Develop skills in curriculum planning, budgeting, ordering, and obtaining educational materials.

CH 300 Church History I (3 credit hours). A study of major events and theological developments within organized Christianity from the immediate post-New Testament era to the Protestant Reformation.

Competencies:

1. Describe the Church in relation to Jesus.
2. Describe the Church of the Medieval and Renaissance worlds.
3. Understand and appreciate the Church in the global community.
4. Understand the effect on the Church of the persecution in the Holy Roman Empire.

CH 301 Church History II (3 credit hours). A study of major events and theological developments within organized Christianity from the Protestant Reformation to the present.

Competencies:

1. Understand the broad scope of the history of the Christian Church, its major turningpoints, personalities, and teachings.
2. Understand the importance of historical context (especially social, political, and religious thought and actions) on the formation of Church teachings and practices.
3. Develop an appreciation for people of the Church in the history of Christianity.
4. Clarify the centrality of religion in world history.

CH 400 Christianity in Africa (3 credit hours). A study of Christianity's encounter with Africa during the early centuries of civilization.

Competencies:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the impact of African ancestors on American Culture.
2. Understand the impact of European intrusion on African history.
3. Understand the background of Africa and African peoples and civilizations.

Course Descriptions

CJM101 Introduction to the Criminal Justice System (4 credit hours)

This course is an introductory survey of the American criminal justice system with a view to its social and institutional context, and its structure and functioning. The course provides an overview of the foundations and components of the criminal justice system, including (substantive and procedural) criminal law, police, courts and corrections. The main emphasis will be placed on the criminal justice process, and how the various institutions of criminal justice interact. Key issues will be addressed as they arise at different stages of the process, such as the conflict between crime control and due process, and conflicts related to, for example, gender, class and ethnicity.

CJM 206 Policing in Society (4 credit hours)

This is an introductory course that exposes students to the various issues and concerns faced by law enforcement personnel in American society and the interaction between the police and those they are sworn to protect and serve. It exposes students to information on the variety of activities that make up the daily activities of police officers. Included in this exposition are the techniques used by law enforcement personnel to solve criminal cases.

CJM 302 Victimology (4 credit hours)

The course begins by presenting a number of different definitions of Victimology to include early theorists and recent theories as to the causes of victimization. Methods of reporting crimes, both official (governmental) and unofficial reports will be examined including the Uniform Crime Report (UCR). The course will offer an examination of the criminal and civil process as it relates to victims. Social and economic impact of crime on individuals, organizations, and society will be explored. The personal effects of victimization to include, post-traumatic stress disorder, acute stress disorder, and long-term crisis reaction will be identified and discussed. Specific areas of victimization will be examined to include: Workplace violence and harassment; stranger violence; hate crimes; intimate violence; female victims; child victims; elder victims; and victims that belong to special populations. Study of court management from institutional, behavioral and process perspectives.

CJM 303 Law and Society (4 credit hours)

The course on law touches on all areas of social life, but why do we need social science to help us understand the law? After all, law is an area of study that is taught by its own specialized instructors and practiced by a select group of professionals. Surely, you might argue, law is for law schools, law books, and lawyers? But there is much more to it than that. Law, which affects so many social processes, is itself a product of those same social processes. It is people—as judges, attorneys, police officers, legislators, defendants, and plaintiffs—who make the law. The actions of these people are influenced not just by “law on the books,” but also by their own experiences, by their social relationships, and by their interpretations of the world around them.

CJM 305 Juvenile Delinquency (4 credit hours)

This course presents an in-depth analysis of the extent, nature, trends, and treatment of juvenile delinquency. Emphasis is placed on the history, philosophy, operation and controversies surrounding the juvenile court, and on theories of delinquency causation. Also included are key issues concerning the juvenile justice process.

CJM 410 Race, Class, and Gender in Correctional Context (4 credit hours)

Examination of the role of race, class and gender within the institutional correctional community. Analysis of the impact upon clients, staff and administration through examination of current correctional institutions and case studies by selected corrections experts.

CJM 411 Cyber Crime Investigations and Forensics (3 credit hours)

Along with an introduction to forensic tools, you'll explore computer forensic principles including operating system concepts, registry structures, file system concepts, boot process, and file operations. You'll also learn about intrusion detection methodologies, tools, and approaches to incident response.

CJM 490 Criminal Justice Industry Practicum (15 Credit Hours/600 Clock Hours)

The practicum is designed to develop greater breadth and depth of students' understanding and experience within the industry. The practical application of knowledge and skill acquired in class will help students extend their expertise by working in a criminal justice management related organization.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Master of Arts in Organizational Management

The Master of Arts in Organizational Management (MAOM) is designed for those students whose plans include that of moving into higher level management positions, or are currently in one, and have a need to focus further on the foundation of business in what “moves and makes business work.” The coursework prescribed has been deliberately created in relation to learners’ needs and goals that are geared toward somewhat advanced practices in management and leadership. Therefore, the program has been created to bring students the essential elements of the functional area of management, its structure, and the role management plays within an organization. Upon successful completion of the program, students will understand how the design of management in organizations will impact their roles as managers/leaders in a company or business. The Master in Organization Management is a program comprised of 12 courses which make up 36 semester hours over a span of approximately 36-40 weeks (See Program Offerings).

Students, who are focusing on mobility in their job capacities, and those desiring to move into management careers, will obtain more in-depth knowledge of the foundations of business or organizational management. Students will then be able to synthesize, or integrate this knowledge into their job responsibilities, i.e., know more about organizations than just the narrow perspective of their prior experiences, “open book management.”

Admissions Requirements

Only persons who have received a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent, as determined by the faculty admissions committee, from an accredited college or university, and who have a cumulative average of “C” or higher are academically eligible for admission as students in the master’s programs.

Other requirements for admissions

- A bachelor’s degree in a related discipline awarded by an institution accredited by an agency recognized by US Department of Education.
- Official transcripts prior institution from which a degree was earned.
- Completed online application.

In exceptional cases, persons who have graduated from non- accredited colleges or universities may be admitted on probationary status. The probationary status is for a period of one year and will be removed once the student has successfully demonstrated the ability to pursue graduate academic study.

Graduation Requirements

Completion of the minimum 36 semester credit hours as detailed below (maximum 39 semester credit hours). The prescribed course of study as outlined in the program curriculum must be satisfactorily completed. To graduate, it is required that a student be in good academic standing as defined in this catalog and satisfy all financial obligations.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation in the program.

In addition to the academic requirements for graduation, students must receive the endorsement of the faculty responsible for the degree program in which they are enrolled. Students must demonstrate that they have acted responsibly in attempting to live in accord with standards of wholesome Christian character and with general standards of the institution.

Students anticipating graduation must complete a Degree Conferral form. This should be done at the time of advising appointment for registration for the semester before the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester of intended graduation.

To qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed, and all requirements met before the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by the end term preceding the term the program is completed. If a student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following term.

PROGRAM OFFERINGS

The Master of Arts in Organizational Management Program will be available both online and in the classroom. However, with the nontraditional learner population in mind, the development of the program was deemed highly suitable for the online delivery format. If students desire to do so, they may enroll in a course or courses at Virginia University main campus.

CJM 601 Survey of Criminal Justice (4 credit hours)

This course presents an advanced view of the organization and operation of the criminal justice system in the United States. The purpose and function of the system in apprehending offenders, the prosecution of offenders, and the punishment of offenders is reviewed. Other important criminal justice issues such as theories of criminal behavior, measurement of crime and assessment of crime statistics, trends in criminal behavior, management of criminal behavior in the United States, and special topics such as juvenile delinquency, comparative criminology, technology and crime, terrorism are also covered.

CJM 602 Criminal Law and Procedure (4 credit hours)

In this course, current critical issues in criminal law and procedure are addressed. Emphasis is placed on the significance of recent judicial decisions to criminal law and procedure. The principles of criminal law and procedure are examined, including the general principles of substantive criminal law, due process requirements, punishments, criminal responsibility, and the procedural requirements for judicial processing of criminal offenders.

CJM 603 Criminal Justice Ethics (4 credit hours)

This course is an examination of issues of professional and ethical behavior within the criminal justice system. Key issues examined include professional behavior of the individual and the agency. Current topics such as law enforcement ethics, research ethics, and are examined.

CJM 604 Capstone Seminar in Criminal Justice (4 credit hours)

This final course will allow the students to demonstrate their knowledge via the development of a comprehensive capstone project. The student will accomplish this through gathering bibliographic and reference materials on a research topic developed by the student with the assistance of a faculty mentor. The capstone shall be prepared in accordance with the standards of the academic discipline and utilize the theories, research methods and analytical skills, and substantive knowledge obtained through their studies in the master's program. The research seminar proposal must provide a clear and lucid description of problem and a proposed method of addressing the problem.

CJM 605 Cybercrime (4 credit hours)

This course is designed to help students understand and apply the nature of computer crime in the criminal justice field. Several theories (both micro-level and macro-level) will be presented and will be analyzed in depth and applied to computer crime cases both past and present. Students will see how major theories have been re-developed to be applied to computer crime, and by using these theories, students will both develop and explore different strategies for future law enforcement. Students will be presented with common types of fraudulent schemes, as well as several laws that have been enacted and developed specifically for computer crime. In addition, causes, victimization, legal issues, control strategies, and societal costs regarding the "computer-crime" problem will be explored and evaluated.

CJM 606 Race, Ethnicity and Justice (4 credit hours)

This course examines the roles of race and ethnicity in crime and justice. Focus on differing experiences of racial/ethnic groups as they encounter various agencies of the criminal justice system.

CJM 607 Industry Practicum (8 credit hours/320 clock hours)

Presents the evolution of new laws that create a cooperative environment coordinating training and action measures between local, state, and federal agencies with the goal to singularly respond and prevent terrorist threats and incidents.

Doctor of Healthcare Administration

The Doctor of Healthcare Administration (DHA) program will provide a demanding interdisciplinary education to working licensed healthcare professionals. Content of this program covers the latest area of development in the health care sector, preparing professionals to be effective leaders and change agents in a variety of health settings. This is a post professional distanced based doctoral program for qualified licensed health care professionals. This program is open to health professionals seeking leadership roles in education and/or clinical practice including, but not limited to: Health Administrators, Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioner, Nurses, Dietitians/Nutritionists, Physical or Occupational Therapists, Behavioral or Mental Health Specialists, Complementary, Integrative Health Practitioners and those who would like to teach in the healthcare setting.

This program is based on an innovative curriculum in a flexible, asynchronous online format to best meet the expected needs of a healthcare professional student. It allows students to balance their jobs, education, and family. This program prepares them for a variety of real-life situations in the workplace.

Admissions Requirements

- A master's or doctoral degree in a related discipline awarded by an institution accredited by an agency recognized by US Department of Education.
- Official transcripts from all prior institutions from which a degree was earned.
- Complete online application
- Phone interview with the Admissions Committee
- Minimum of 90 (93 maximum) graduate semester credit hours beyond the bachelor's degree. An externship of up to 24 credit hours may be required for students to fulfill part of these requirements.

Application Material Required

- Virginia University of Lynchburg Application
- Official transcripts from every institution attended.
 - World Education Services (WES) or equivalent evaluation for any foreign coursework
- International applicant is required to take and submit official score reports from English proficiency testing: the TOEFL-Test of English as a Foreign Language (both the internet-based TOEFL iBT test and the paper-delivered TOEFL test are accepted).
- Two recommendation letters or phone interview
- Writing Sample
 - Publications authored by the applicant as first or second author in peer-reviewed publications.

Externship Requirements/Policies

- An externship of up to 24 credit hours may be required for students entering the program, with less than 90 graduate semester credit hours beyond the bachelor's degree to partially fulfill this prior graduate education requirement.

- The Externship course is an important component of the Healthcare Administration Program. This course allows students entering with less than 90 graduate semester credit hours to apply the knowledge and skills learned in the program's academic courses to actual health care practices.
- Students who enter with a minimum of 90 (93 maximum) graduate semester credit hours beyond the bachelor's degree may waive this requirement.

The health care facilities which serve as affiliation sites provide an essential service to our program and our profession. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional and respectful manner during their affiliation experiences.

DHA 811 is an Externship and requires the student to not only attend class but to work at a contracting site for a total of 40 externship hours without compensation.

Students are responsible for providing their own transportation to their externship site.

Mid-Semester Student Self-Evaluation/Assessment

At the mid-semester point of the semester, students must draft an assessment of their own performance/progress and discuss this self-evaluation with their supervisors, who must also provide an evaluation of the students' progress toward meeting their goals. This form permits them to share their self-assessment with their supervisor mid-semester so they can receive feedback while there is still time for self-correction.

End of the Semester Requirements

At the end of the semester, students are required to obtain certification from their field placement supervisors that they have completed the number of work hours required to obtain the field credits they wish to earn. (The employer should sign off on the time log or send an email). You should also request an evaluation from the supervisor (you will receive additional information about this from Program staff). Finally, the students must fill out an online evaluation of the field placement. You should complete the space on the form you will receive from the registrar for each student that indicates that he or she has satisfied the requirements for receiving ungraded externship field credit.

Graduation Requirements

For the Doctor of Healthcare Administration (DHA) degree, student must earn at least 36 hours of credit, of which all must be at Virginia University of Lynchburg. Students must complete the curriculum requirements with a grade of "B" or higher, be in good academic standing as defined in this catalog, and satisfy all financial obligations.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation in the program.

Students anticipating graduation must complete a Degree Conferral form. This should be done at the time of advising appointment for registration for the semester before the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester of intended graduation.

To qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed, and all requirements met before the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by the end term preceding the term the program is completed. If a student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following term.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

DHA 801 Organizational Change Management (4 credit hour)

Study organizational management theory and organizational models in a variety of settings as related to culture, mission, performance and change management with an emphasis on the application of management theory and research. Strategies are presented, examined, and discussed ways to lead an organization forward in a collaborative manner.

DHA 802 Organizational Communication (4 credit hour)

This course considers writing and other forms of communication as a management tool. It addresses how effective writing – in plain English – can shape project plans, motivate people, solve problems and enhance your role as a communicator. Students will investigate their own communication style and reflect on opportunities for their communication foundation. Students will demonstrate their writing and editing skills through research, case study analysis, and composing business-related communications. Students also will develop other forms of communication, including oral presentations. As such, the two major goals of this course are to acquaint students with a step-by-step communication methodology and to provide them with an opportunity to develop and polish their writing and communication skills. An online writing lab is an integral component of the course.

DHA 803 Leadership & Professional Issues (4 credit hours).

This course is an exploration of two areas of leadership development and practice: 1) the art and science of leadership in the health professions including theory, skills and applications; and 2) critical issues facing the health professions.

DHA 804 Negotiations and Conflict Management (4 credit hours).

This course will cover the theory, processes, and practices of negotiation, conflict resolution, and relationship management to help you be a more effective negotiator in a variety of situations. We examine effective and ineffective strategies; determine why they work well and discuss successful alternatives if they do not. The students will also identify patterns of negotiation and conflict resolution in different national and cultural contexts, to gain an understanding for how interpersonal style, personality, culture, and other variables influence our negotiation and decision-making skills.

DHA 805 Healthcare Marketing (4 credit hours).

This course allows students to discover how marketing theories and methodologies apply to healthcare and the consumer decision-making process, with an emphasis on social media and digital marketing techniques.

DHA 806 Global Healthcare Strategy (4 credit hours).

This course examines the structure of health care systems in different countries, focusing on financing, reimbursement, delivery systems, manufacturers and the adoption of new technologies. We study the roles of private and public sector insurance and providers, and the effect of system design on cost, quality, efficiency and equity of medical services. How do these different systems deal with decisions about investment and adoption of new technologies? How do service providers and manufacturers evaluate opportunities for growth and expansion in new geographies and markets? Regions and countries discussed will include the US, UK, Western Europe, Russia and the Baltics, the Middle East, and Asia (China and India) and Haiti. This course explores entrepreneurial and other private sector solutions for health services and access to medicines and technologies in the developing world and other underserved areas. We also study creative programs to engage the private sector in development of vaccines and medicines for tropical diseases and therapeutic strategies for the rapidly growing burden of chronic, non-communicable diseases in the developing world.

DHA 807 Teaching Practicum (4 credit hours)

This course consists of activities culminating in meeting minimal competencies for teaching in higher education institutions. Individually identified competencies include tasks such as responsibility for planning, preparing, presenting and evaluating a course with supervision. Student, instructor and advisor develop a contract reflecting current abilities and development needs in teaching.

DHA 808 Research Practicum (4 credit hours)

Prepares the student for dissertation research through faculty-supervised research experiences. Focuses on one or more stages of the research process, such as developing a question, literature review, design and method, IRB, grant writing, subject recruitment, instrumentation, measurement, data collection, data analysis, interpretation of results, and/or dissemination of results.

DHA 809 Leadership Practicum (4 credit hours)

This course is designed for students interested in an administration and leadership mentored practicum to assist them in meeting their future career goals. Students are expected to develop a learning contract with specific objectives, and work with their faculty advisor to identify the resources needed to successfully complete this practicum.

LEONARD N. SMITH SCHOOL OF RELIGION

Master of Divinity

Mission and Purpose of Graduate Education

Virginia University of Lynchburg seeks to provide self-actualization opportunities for all qualified applicants who are willing to stretch their mental and practical capabilities. This historical African American institution was founded in 1886 to meet the growing demands of our churches for better- educated and -trained ministers, missionaries, and teachers.

In accordance with the mission and purpose of the University, the graduate program is designed to provide the student with a program of professional training and preparation for the Christian ministry, where high standards of scholarship and research in the basic academic disciplines are achieved, where moral and spiritual growth coupled with competence in ministry takes place, and where the student is prepared to achieve in any and all cultural settings.

GOALS

The University sets the following goals in graduate education:

- To prepare the student for leadership roles and responsibilities beneficial to the African American community;
- To provide an environment that focuses upon the uniqueness of the African American experience and heritage in America;
- To strengthen and foster pride in that heritage;
- To reinforce the commitment to the African American community; and
- To foster empowerment whereby the student is prepared to assume the mantle of leadership not only in the African American community, but in the large community as well.

The University is committed to the preparation of persons for the Christian ministry throughout the world in a variety of forms and institutional settings focused on the local church.

The University seeks also to equip men and women for the Christian ministry who view that ministry as a divine vocation, know themselves to be called of God, and are committed to grow toward wholeness in their relationship with God, self, others, and their world.

Admissions Requirements

Standard Admissions

Any person who has received a bachelor's degree or its equivalent may be admitted into the Master of Divinity Program after having met the following criteria:

1. A written statement certifying his or her relationship to the church.
2. A written statement of endorsement from the Pastor or other responsible supervising personnel.
3. A concise written statement indicating the reason why he or she chose ministry as a vocation/life work.
4. Application form must be submitted to the Registrar along with the non-refundable fee of $25.00.
5. Upon review of the application by the Admission Committee, he or she will be notified of the action taken.

Special Admissions

Only persons who have received a bachelor's degree or its equivalent, as determined by the faculty admissions committee, from an accredited college or university, and who have a cumulative average of "C" or higher are academically eligible for admission as students in the Master of Divinity Program. In exceptional cases, persons who have graduated from non-accredited colleges or universities may be admitted on probationary status. The probationary status is for a period of one year and will be removed once the student has successfully demonstrated the ability to pursue graduate academic study. Other requirements for special admissions are based on the following:

1. The completion of the standard admissions application.
2. Three (3) letters of recommendations indicating the capacity for ministry, character and intellectual ability for academic study.
3. An autobiographical statement highlighting life-long experiences, employment history, ministerial activities, call statement, future vocational focus, and the significance of preparation.
4. Documentation of one's educational background, indicating all applicable courses, certificate programs, professional in-services activities.
5. Submission of an assigned writing sample.
6. An interview and assessment with three faculty members whose unanimous endorsement is required for admissions.

International Students

International Students are required to maintain valid immigration status throughout their stay at Virginia University of Lynchburg in order to retain good standing with the School. In most cases, this requires that the student be enrolled full-time for three consecutive quarters each year. A person whose immigration status is not valid is not considered a current student and cannot register for classes, participate in seminary activities, or apply for readmission or admission to other degree programs.

Residence Requirements and Transfer Credit

A minimum of 60 semester hours of graduate theological and Biblical studies must be earned at Virginia University of Lynchburg School of Religion. Non-theological studies are normally not considered for transfer credit. Coursework taken in a nonreligious setting which might be considered as parallel to coursework in the VUL curriculum may be considered on an individual basis if it is appropriate to the field of concentration and approved by the School of Religion Academic Committee.

Absences and Withdrawal

In the event that a student must be absent from class, it is the student's responsibility to make necessary arrangements with the instructor. Faculty members decide their own policies concerning class attendance.

Whenever possible, students are expected to report to their academic advisors any anticipated extended absences. Students who do not expect to register for a given semester (except summer) should consult with their academic advisors. If a student does not register for a period of two years (four semesters), it will be necessary for the student to apply for reinstatement. In such cases, students must meet the degree requirements in effect at the time they resume their coursework.

Students who expect to discontinue their work at Virginia University of Lynchburg are expected to complete withdrawal forms, which require exit interviews from the offices of the Deans.

Academic Standing

To remain in good academic standing, students must have successfully completed 75% of the courses in which they have enrolled for that academic year and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 for all coursework. Grades which represent successful completion are A, B, C, CR (Credit), P (Pass), or SA (Satisfactory). Grades which do not represent successful completion are "I" (Incomplete), F (Fail), NS (Non-Satisfactory), and N/C (No Credit).

Academic Probation

In the event that a student fails to meet the above standards for good academic standing, he or she will be placed on academic probation. Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0 may be subject to academic dismissal.

Appeal Process

Students may request exceptions to the above policy by presenting a written description of their extenuating circumstances and their plans for the establishment of good standing to the Academic Affairs Committee of the School of Religion for consideration. The student will be advised in writing of the decision after reviewing by the committee.

Time Limits for the Completion of the Master of Divinity Degree

In order to ensure that a degree, when granted, represents education that is current and reasonably focused within a certain period, the maximum time of study is ten (10) years. The Dean, if there are extenuating circumstances, may make exceptions. This includes all credit earned elsewhere and applied toward the degree, as well as all credit earned at VUL.

Students who do not register for a period of more than two years (four semesters) must reapply for admission and are subject to the curriculum in effect at the time of their reinstatement.

Graduation Requirements

Completion of the minimum 90 semester credit hours as detailed below (maximum 96 semester credit hours) in the prescribed course of study as outlined in the curriculum for the Master of Divinity Program must be satisfactorily completed. To graduate, it is required that a student be in good academic standing as defined earlier in this section of the catalog and satisfy all financial obligations.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation for the Master of Divinity degree. Students must serve as the worship leader during their senior year in at least one chapel service. Successful completion of a Senior Sermon in the chapel is required. Criteria will be provided.

In addition to the academic requirements for graduation, students must receive the endorsement of the faculty responsible for the degree program in which they are enrolled. Students must demonstrate that they have acted responsibly in attempting to live in accord with standards of wholesome Christian character and with general standards of the institution.

Students anticipating graduation must complete the Degree Conferral form. This should be done at the time of advising appointment for registration for the semester before the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester of intended graduation.

In order to qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed and all requirements met by the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by the end of the spring term. If a student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following year.

Academic Year

The Master of Divinity Program enables the student to register for the part-time Day program or the Non-Traditional Hours program (NTH).

The Day Program

- Fall Semester
- Spring Semester
- Summer Session

The NTH – Non-Traditional Hours Program

Guidelines for Directed and Independent Studies

A. The Directed Study

Students with scheduling difficulties over which they have no control and needing a course which is required for graduation are permitted to take that course via "Directed Study" upon the approval of the faculty adviser and the professor who will supervise the directed study.

B. The Independent Study

Students having a GPA of 2.5 and above are permitted to do an "Independent Study" as an elective upon approval of the student's adviser and the professor/supervisor who will conduct the independent study. Independent Study is granted the last semester before graduation.

C. The Experiential/Cultural Immersion Learning Event

Students also have the possibility of proposing and participating in experiential/cultural immersion learning events. These events must be approved by the Dean.

Students can utilize no more than one of each of the indicated methods of independent or directed study. Any deviation from this policy will require a vote of the faculty.

In any directed or independent study, after consultation with the professor or supervisor guiding the course/event, the student must complete a directed/independent study form and indicate the following:

1. Participating Professor/Supervisor
2. Topic to be considered/researched or the nature of the experiential/cultural event
3. Learning objectives for course or event
4. Established assignments
5. Bibliography
6. Criteria for evaluation
7. Number of sessions or duration of the event

Note: In most cases, experiential/cultural immersion events are graded pass/fail and not with lettergrades.

FINANCIAL AID

Students, who desire to apply for financial aid, may contact the Director of Financial Aid. Virginia University of Lynchburg has been approved to participate in Federal Student Financial Aid Programs. In order to begin the process to determine if you are eligible for financial aid, you are encouraged to complete the FAFSA application. You may complete the application in two ways:

1. Go online: www.fafsa.ed.gov Complete the application online.
2. Secure a FAFSA application.
3. Complete the application form and mail the application to the address indicated on the FAFSA form.

Course format includes readings, lectures, seminars, and mid-term and final examinations.

Doctor of Ministry

PROGRAM

The Doctor of Ministry program is open to applicants, without discrimination, who have completed the Master of Divinity degree at an accredited seminary, provided that they have demonstrated the ability to do academic work on the graduate level. The demonstration of such ability will be evidenced by satisfactory achievement and proven quality in communication skills and cognitive ability as ascertained in an interview and a review of written work.

Introduction

The Doctor of Ministry Program will provide challenging opportunities for students to engage in specialized training beyond their present level and to apply, analyze, synthesize, and evaluate classroom, research, and real-world experiences. Each student will evaluate his/her abilities, interests, experiences, spiritual gifts, skills, and talents and will identify an area of focus for the Doctor of Ministry project. While this project endeavors to challenge the student's academic potential, the primary focus of the D.Min. Program will be in the area of practical ministerial activities.

The Doctor of Ministry degree is designed primarily for ministers who serve African Americans and other racial minorities. The Doctor of Ministry program is a non-resident degree program that is intended for ministry personnel who desire further academic and practical education but who simultaneously wish to remain in their service where God has placed them.

The student will learn how to integrate cognitive skills in completing his/her identified project. The identified project must reflect the student's goals, objectives, and strategies. In the three-year Doctor of Ministry program, 63-graduate hours of study beyond the Master of Divinity degree, will provide continuous opportunities for the student and faculty team to evaluate the on-going project in relation to the student's goals, objectives, and strategies. The team will also review the project in light of its potential to offer research/historical and/or practical contributions to churches, Christian education fields, and related social organizations and agencies.

Program Goals

The Doctor of Ministry Program is designed to provide a challenging and practical environment in which the student can learn, understand, apply, analyze, synthesize, and evaluate religious, educational, and practical experiences. The student will:

- Learn problem-solving skills.
- Develop skills to apply knowledge gained through lectures, reading, guided research, and life-experiences to a practical project in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Doctor of Ministry degree.
- Select, conduct, and defend his/her project in light of its research and practical quality.

Program of Study Program Advising

After matriculation, each student will request the formation of a Doctoral Committee. The committee must include two Faculty Members and the student's advisor. The student, with the input of the advisor, will select the doctoral committee members. The committee members should be selected because of their mutual interests in a particular field, background and communication styles, and/or expertise in the area of the student's doctoral project or subject concentration. The student and advisor, as well as committee members will communicate with each other frequently via telephone, postal mail, e-mail, and face-to-face contacts at colloquia.

All dissertation/project ideas, after they have been developed with the Doctoral Committee, including the advisor, will be shared with the Staff Research Advisor. The proposed project/dissertation must have the initial and ongoing approval of the staff research advisor. The final dissertation/project must have the approval of the advisor, committee members, and staff research advisor.

The Research

In addition to using Virginia University of Lynchburg's library, the learner may utilize local and regional public, college, and seminary libraries, often free of charge by showing your VUL identification. Each student will receive a VUL ID card, with a printed photograph, during the Orientation Session. This card will be valid for the three-year period, or as long as the student remains enrolled in the D.Min. Program.

Research and practical skill development are the foundations of VUL's D.Min program. As the learner grows by conducting research and practicing his/her ministerial profession, the learner seeks more knowledge and then puts that knowledge into practice. Over time, during the three-year program, the student learns how to function on higher cognitive levels in practice, not just on theory.

Admission Requirements

The Doctor of Ministry Program is open to applicants, without discrimination, who have completed the Master of Divinity degree at an accredited seminary and have demonstrated the ability to do academic work on the graduate level.

Students who have not earned a Master of Divinity, but who have earned a Master's degree or related theological degree may be admitted conditionally. These students must complete four required M.Div. courses in order to successfully complete the Doctor of Ministry program. The courses will consist of one in each of the following four major areas: Biblical Studies, Theological Studies, Historical Studies and Ministerial Studies.

The above requirements are at the very heart of VUL's doctorate program. Learning should not occur in a vacuum. Students study to learn and learn so that they may apply that knowledge. As a student gains new knowledge and applies the information in real-world situations, he/she develops a thirst for more knowledge, at a higher cognitive level. VUL's program emphasizes the integration of subject/academic areas into a project. Students should not enroll in a course or conduct research just for the sake of learning isolated pieces of information. The successful VUL student will develop skills in integrating his/her learning into a practical project. A missionary project, for example, may include study in the fields of Church History, Missiology, Cultural Anthropology, Sociology, and Old Testament History. Research ability – the skill of a student researcher to take an idea or problem, investigate that idea through literature and observational research, and develop a project that answers the major questions posed by the researcher is the hallmark of VUL's Doctor of Ministry Program.

The Dissertation/Project

The Dissertation/Project (DP) demonstrates a student's skill in organizing preliminary ideas into a practical, cognitive, and thoroughly researched project. The DP signifies that the student has attained a level of expertise in his/her chosen field. It provides a high-quality document that not only reflects on the academic program at Virginia University of Lynchburg, but also gives to the religious community -- locally, regionally, and nationally -- a practical research document. The DP will answer several questions:

- What was the quality level of the student's growth from the first year to the third year?
- Was the quality of the project and document worthy of publication as partial fulfillment of the Virginia University of Lynchburg's requirements for a Doctorate Degree?
- Does the document/project contribute to the informational, practical, and spiritual needs of the Christian society?
- Have the academic and practical skills been stirred sufficiently that the scholar/pastor can demonstrate his/her ability to develop life-long practical projects independently?
- Specifically, has Virginia University of Lynchburg stirred the eagle's nest to the point that the eaglet can fly on his/her own as an eagle?

The ministry research project/dissertation is the culmination of the three-year program of study. Through the project/dissertation, the student has the opportunity to integrate professional knowledge and experience and document research work in the context of his/her current and future ministry.

Graduation Requirements

Completion of the prescribed Doctor of Ministry Process, course of study, and dissertation/project as outlined in the Doctor of Ministry Program must be satisfactorily completed. To graduate, it is required that a student be in good academic standing as defined earlier in this section of the catalog and satisfy all financial obligations.

Students are responsible for meeting the graduation requirements set forth in the catalog published at the time of their matriculation for the Doctor of Ministry degree.

In addition to the academic requirements for graduation, students must receive the endorsement of the faculty responsible for the degree program in which they are enrolled. Students must demonstrate that they have acted responsibly in attempting to live in accord with standards of wholesome Christian character and with general standards of the institution.

Students anticipating graduation must complete the Degree Conferral form. This should be done at the time of advising appointment for registration for the semester before the student's final semester. Applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the semester of prior to the intended semester of graduation.

In order to qualify for graduation in a given semester, all work must be completed and all requirements met by the official graduation date. Students who, for any reason, do not complete their degree requirements within this semester must reapply for graduation.

The fee for graduation must be paid by the end of the spring term. If a student fails to graduate in the year in which the fee is paid, the fee may be credited toward an application the following year.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY PROCESS

Year One	Year One	Year Two	Year Two	Final Year
Phase I	Phase II	Phase III	Phase IV	Phase V
Analysis	Foundations	Design	Implementation	Documentation

The above process includes Peer Seminars and Independent Study

Phase I: Training in methods for self-analysis and analysis of the project. Through peer seminars, independent study, elective courses, and professional consultation, the student develops a problem statement in a specific ministry focus.

Phase II: This phase allows the student to deepen his/her understanding of Biblical, historical, and theological concepts in relationship to the ministerial problem. The student will review literature relative to the problem so that he/she will understand how to set up the project.

Phase III: The student will develop skills for designing, assessing and evaluating a ministry project. This phase will require the student to work in a collaborative environment with the Advisor, Committee Members, and the Staff Research Advisor.

Phase IV: The implementation phase permits the researcher to apply his/her theoretical and experiential training in a real-world project.

Phase V: The Candidate for the Doctor of Ministry degree must complete a document in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree.
